Farmers Reiterate Their Demand For Control of Power Concerns Asked By Farm Convention

Advisory Board of Farmers' Institutes Renews Appeal For Public Utilities Commission; Game Laws Under Examination; Wild Horses Being Exterminated; Presentation Made A. B. Smith, of Cranbrook.

Immediate creation by the Legislature of a powerful Public Utilities Commission, vested with wide authority over rates and services, was unanimously supported this morning by the Advisory Board of Farmers' Institutes, sitting at the Parliament Buildings.

H. Boe, Lower Fraser Valley, introduced the resolution to reaffirm the stand taken by the Advisory Board last year. He stressed the urgent need of control of power and water corporations, telling of the campaign for concessions which had been necessary in the Fraser Valley before the present satisfactory system of rural power extension had been attained.

A. B. Smith, East Kootenay, when seconding the motion, said: "There is nobody to which complaints can now be brought for arbitration." He told of the refusal of the East Kootenay Power Company to provide power for farmers in districts traversed by high tension lines, the company's demand for payment in advance of the full cost of poles and lines being regarded by settlers tantamount to refusal of service.

HORSE REDUCTION

Frank Ward, president of the Beef Cattle Growers Association, stated that clearing the range districts of wild horses was in progress and would save cattlemen huge sums annually. Since 1927 over 4,000 horses had been destroyed by Government subsidized hunters.

That system of control would not be continued since the recent opening at Calgary of a slaughter house and reduction plant.

The new industry was preparing to convert 5,000 wild horses into bone meal and fertilizer this winter, and the Government had undertaken to provide at least 3,200 animals.

Bands of several hundred animals had been shipped from Cranbrook and others were being driven eastward from the Okanagan, which territory would actually be cleared of wild horses. The work was being conducted in all districts.

HAN ON BEAVER

The board supported a province-wide prohibition of trapping of beaver and rejected a motion asking year-round maintenance of the coyote bounty of $7.50 per head.

J. M. Yoxton, Cariboo, won unanimous approval of a resolution asking legislation to compel hunters to bring out of the bush all carcasses of moose, deer and caribou. Such a regulation was expected to confine hunters to settled districts, would enlarge the Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 21.—C. C. Crabbe, father of Ohio's dry law and former Attorney-General of Ohio, today announced he favored a modification of the Crabbe Act to permit sale of light wines and beer.

Orators Tell Of Maiden Speeches In Times Series

Do you remember the first public speech you ever made? How did you feel on that momentous occasion?

A reporter of The Times has been walking around town asking the question of anyone he runs across. He has interviewed prominent men whose names are already inscribed on the roll of oratorical fame and others who make no claim to eloquence, but at some time or other have made their bow to the public from the speaker's platform.

Some orators were nervous on the first occasion. Others faced the audience full of confidence but cultivated nervousness later. Some of the most experienced orators confess after years in the public eye, they are nervous every time they rise to speak. Only one so far interviewed says he was never nervous.

The Times will run a series of articles on the interviews secured. It would also like to hear from anyone who has ever made a speech telling of his maiden effort. You need not be a statesman, politician or public man. In fact you need not even be a man. Contributions are invited from women. Address the letter to The Department of Eloquence, Victoria Daily Times. Send your picture with the letter.

FORFEITURE SWEEPSTAKE PRIZE ASKED

Writ Served on Arthur Cann for $7,397 Under Criminal Code Rule

Arthur E. Sonley Claims Prize as First Informer Against Winner

Arthur Cann, 318 Oswego Street, who won $7,397 through gaining the second prize in a recent horse-racing sweep, was today served with a writ out of the Supreme Court under which Charles E. Sonley, 1815 Belmont Avenue, accountant for the Land Settlement Board, Parliament Buildings, seeks to secure the total of Cann's winnings.

Mr. Sonley found a section of the Criminal Code of Canada which declares that the winnings of any man through a sweepstake or lottery are immediately forfeited to any person who gives information and makes a motion to sue.

When he found that this section of the code would fit the case of sweepstakes here, Mr. Sonley took it to P. R. Leighton, lawyer, who after investigation supported his client's views. Mr. Leighton then issued the writ.

The section of the law on which the forfeit is based is section 236, sub-section 3 of the Criminal Code of Canada, which declares that "every sale, loan, gift, barter by any lottery or other mode of chance and all property so given or bartered is liable to be forfeited to any person who sues for same by action or information in any court of competent jurisdiction."

ANTI-NARCOTIC CAMPAIGN ON U.S. PACIFIC COAST

Washington, Nov. 21.—A special squad of expert narcotic agents has been organized to combat smuggling on the Pacific Coast of the United States.

The Customs Bureau, announcing the plan today, said the squad was headed by Melvin L. Hank, agent in charge of the successful Law Lee opium case in Honolulu.

He will have headquarters in San Francisco with agents in Seattle, Portland, San Diego and Los Angeles.

The Government has found some smuggling along the west coast across the borders from Mexico and Canada, the narcotics being brought in by individuals and organized gangs.

HULK IS SEEN BY PEOPLE ON SHIP OFF CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The marine department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce today received a wireless message from Captain W. McAvoy of the steamer Columbian, stating he had sighted what appeared to be a wreck at 8 p.m. yesterday, fourteen miles south of Point Arena.

The Columbian was en route from San Francisco to Seattle.

The wreck, Captain McAvoy said, appeared to be that of a vessel forty feet in length and eight to ten feet beam. It extended about two feet above water. It was reported as a menace to navigation.

The marine department knew of no vessel missing. The hulk was presumed to be that of a fishing vessel or a pleasure craft.

MRS. BRUCE ENDS HER LONG FLIGHT IN JAPAN

Osaka, Japan, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Victor Bruce, British motorist and aviatrix, arrived here this afternoon after a long flight from London, which she left September 25.

She was welcomed by Japanese and British residents, and will be given a banquet this evening. Newspapers here lauded her dogged flight across two continents to Japan, commenting she was the first woman to attempt the dangerous plane journey.

DISARMAMENT PLANS SCORED BY RUSSIANS

Geneva, Nov. 21.—Maksim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, expressed his government's broad disapproval of proceedings of the Preparatory Disarmament Commission at today's session of that body here.

M Litvinoff's strictures were voiced when the commission, after completing the second reading of the main body of its draft convention, began consideration of proposals for establishment of a permanent disarmament commission for direction of a disarmament programme under any general treaty which may be concluded.

"The Soviet Government," he said, "cannot accept a disarmament programme which would be entirely under the control of the League of Nations, and he proceeded to make caustic comments on the draft convention itself.

Prior to his flare-up the commission had been discussing the disarmament of the United States and Japan, registering negative votes.

MOSCOW STATES REVOLT REPORT IS UNFOUNDED

Moscow, Nov. 21.—The Soviet Foreign Office today characterized reports from Berlin and Vienna that two Red army battalions had revolted, as being absolutely malicious inventions.

The Tass denials being received here several hours before publication of the Berlin reports.

The Express story said the revolting Red soldiers had killed some of their officers, but eventually were subdued by the secret police after a fierce battle.

About 100 arrests were said to have been made since in the Red capital.

HERE TO-DAY MAKING STUDY OF FISHERIES

HON. E. N. RHODES

Minister of Fisheries, who reached Victoria by the afternoon boat today from Vancouver. During his stay here Mr. Rhodes will confer with Premier Tomin, Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, and J. P. Babcock (assistant commissioner of fisheries). He is familiarizing himself with the fishing industry on the coast. Accompanying him is Mrs. Rhodes and their daughter, Miss Sybil Rhodes.

PLANE SEARCH DISORGANIZED THROUGH RAIN

Soft Weather Makes Skis Useless to Planes Hunting Burke Party in North

Pilot Eckmann Reaches Seattle

Seattle, Nov. 21.—Ansel Eckmann, who with two Canadian airmen had been searching for Pilot Robin Renahan, Sam Clert and Frank Hatcher, who disappeared seventeen days ago in the vicinity of Ketchikan, landed here today from the north to obtain a new engine and possibly a new plane. He plans to return to the search as soon as possible.

The naval tug Swallow, which will be refueling ship for two navy planes in the search for six missing American and Canadian fliers in Northern British Columbia, left the Puget Sound navy yard today for Ketchikan, Alaska.

MINISTER STUDIES B.C. PARKS PLANS

Murphy, in Vancouver From Ottawa, Withholds Statement Till Engineer Reports

Federal Work Will Include Establishment of Park on Vancouver Island

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—Hon. T. G. Murphy, on his first visit to the British Columbia coast as Minister of the Interior and Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs said here this forenoon: Negotiations now under way between the Federal and British Columbia Governments were expected to lead to the establishment of two new Federal parks, one on the lower mainland, and another on Vancouver Island.

"James Wardle, our engineer, has just finished a survey of suggested areas out here, but has not completed his report," said Mr. Murphy. "Until I see his report I do not care to express an opinion as to the number or location of parks we might undertake to develop."

KITSLANO DISCUSSION

Asked about the Kitlano Indian Reserve with its administrative triangle involving the Federal, Provincial and Vancouver municipal Governments, Mr. Murphy smiled.

"Yes," he admitted, "although now in effect, I have heard of the Kitlano Reserve. I have no doubt it will be discussed during my visit here."

MORE PARKS WANTED

Regarding national parks, which come under Mr. Murphy's jurisdiction, he said he had noticed in the eastern provinces, particularly in Ontario, that there was a strong desire to create national parks. "They are beginning to take to develop."

CHEAP BUSES MAY OPERATE IN VANCOUVER

Five-year Contract Sought by English Company Representative; Consider Plan

Would Have Fares as Cheap as Street Cars; B.C. Bus Assembly Plant Promised

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—Omni-bus service for Greater Vancouver with fares equal to, or less than, streetcar fares is promised the city council by C. F. Rymer, representative of a large English transportation company, provided a license is given and a "gentleman's agreement" for its renewal for five years is understood.

A committee of the council will discuss with Mr. Rymer details of proposed routes and fares.

Mr. Rymer told the council yesterday afternoon he was here to determine its attitude should his firm apply for a license.

In the event of establishment, he said his company "would have a bus assembly plant in British Columbia to serve the western Canada market."

A legal ruling that the Corporation of Vancouver has the power to authorize by by-law the licensing, on a yearly basis of any number of motor vehicles and the time and place of their operation was formally given by George E. McCrossan, K.C., corporation counsel.

He stated, however, that granting of a bus franchise was beyond the power of the city. The city could not operate its own bus services, either.

On motion of Alderman Warner Loat, the council asked its charter amendments committee to investigate the situation with a view to obtaining such powers in the city charter.

EITHER OIL OR COAL FOR HOTEL PLANT

Criticism of New C.N.R. Equipment in Vancouver Answered by Col. T. A. Hiam

Hotel Plant Built So It May Be Changed Over Quickly, He States

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—The heating plant of the new Canadian National Hotel here will be so constructed it can be changed over from oil to pulverized coal on short notice, Col. T. A. Hiam, resident assistant to the president of the Canadian National Railway, said today.

Col. Hiam's statement followed criticism yesterday by J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist, who, in addressing the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy here, said: "It was almost a disgrace" that the new hotel should use oil instead of coal in view of the unemployment in provincial coal fields.

EXPERTS REPORT

Col. Hiam said oil had been selected for perfectly good reasons, the chief of which was that the company was not satisfied the pulverized coal system had been perfected sufficiently to warrant its installation in the new structure. Experts had been sent to United States cities, he said, to investigate pulverized coal systems there, and their reports had confirmed the view of the company.

Col. Hiam said the Canadian National Railway system was among the greatest users of coal of British Columbia, adding:

"It would be more satisfactory if the facts were presented a little more fairly regarding the use of coal in engines on this division. We use coal in all our engines on the main line between here and Kamloops, except for passenger locomotives. Our switch engines and freight engines all use British Columbia coal."

RYAN ESTATE IS $121,028,992

New York, Nov. 21.—The estate of Thomas Fortune Ryan, who died November 23, 1928, is valued at $121,028,992.

Glendon Ryan, a son and executor of the will, has just filed an accounting showing the estate will pay the state of New York an inheritance tax of $17,379,281 and to the federal government $4,382,072.

FEDERAL MINISTERS IN CITY TO-MORROW

Hon. Thomas G. Murphy, Federal Minister of the Interior and Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, will arrive in the city tomorrow morning from Vancouver.

Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration and Mines, will leave Vancouver to-morrow morning for Victoria.

BRITISH TO BUILD WORLD'S LARGEST LINER FOR ATLANTIC

London, Nov. 21.—Specifications for a 73,000-ton liner which will challenge the Germans for supremacy in North Atlantic traffic were revealed today by W. R. Smith, Parliamentary Secretary of the British Board of Trade.

Mr. Smith addressed the House of Commons in behalf of the Cunard Insurance Bill and told of the projected liner. The vessel, he said, would be 1,018 feet long and would cost approximately $22,500,000.

The insurance bill would grant the government power to subsidize the cost of the liner, leaving the balance to Lloyd's group of insurance companies.

FERGUSON STILL TO DECIDE ON LONDON POST

Ontario Premier Will Soon Reply to Bennett's Offer of High Commissionership

Quebec, Nov. 21.—Premier G. Howard Ferguson has been offered the post of Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, and is still considering whether he will accept. This was the statement Mr. Ferguson made on his arrival here yesterday evening from England.

Despite repeated reports that the Ontario premier had accepted the offer, there is still some doubt as to whether he will go to London. When questioned today he said any conclusion drawn from his utterance yesterday evening was pure conjecture.

HENRY AS PREMIER

In the event of Mr. Ferguson going to London the general impression is that Hon. George S. Henry, present Minister of Highways of Ontario, would succeed him as Premier. Mr. Ferguson has held the post since July, 1923, and in recent years there have been repeated rumors of his intended retirement.

HIS VIEWS

Feeling he will accept the London post, it is strengthened by the fact that he is keenly interested in the development of the British Empire along the lines of closest possible co-operation between the Dominions and Great Britain. He also enjoys the confidence of Premier R. B. Bennett and is in complete accord with the Federal Government's policy in connection with the extension of Empire trade.

From any difficulties which might arise from going to London, Mr. Ferguson would enjoy the occupancy of the post at what he regards as an important and critical stage in the development of the Empire. He would see an opportunity of rendering great service.

GUTHRIE IS BACK FROM CONFERENCE

Federal Minister of Justice, Arriving Home, Tells of Imperial Conference

By Frank Flaherty, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quebec, Nov. 21.—Generally speaking, the Imperial Conference was a great success, says Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice and the first of the Canadian delegates to return from the Conference. On all questions except economic questions a complete agreement was reached, he states, and on that real progress was made and a decision to continue consideration of it at Ottawa next year was reached.

When approached by newspapermen on board the liner Empress of Australia as the ship steamed up the St. Lawrence, Mr. Guthrie gave a review of the work of the Conference. The two chief groups of questions discussed were constitutional and economic matters, he said. On the constitutional side interest centered in certain matters which had been left over from the 1926 Imperial Conference, at which the doctrine of equality of status had been defined and on the economic side, the insurance of the Empire's shipping.

Quebec Is Building
Great New Dock to Greet New Empress

On Arrival From England Next Summer, 42,500-ton
Liner Empress of Britain Will Berth at New
$2,000,000 Terminal at Historic Wolfe's Cove; 300
Men Now Working On Great Undertaking.

Quebec, Nov. 21.—The ancient capital, cradle of Canadian civilization, is on the verge of further great development as a most modern seaport. The fact is significant, not only on account of the city's rich historical associations, but also because it was the last port on the American continent to call for sailing ship charters to satisfy the convictions of timber shippers who believed that the only means of transporting bulk was to load them through the square ports in the bows of vessels specially constructed for that trade. Of more recent years, Quebec has been famous as a great Atlantic passenger and freight port, more particularly as it is the Canadian home of the great Empresses which ply the Atlantic under the Canadian Pacific's checkerboard house flag.

This same company is intimately associated with impending changes, which will take the berth of its great liners upstream next season to the historic Wolfe's Cove, where the British conquering general of that name landed in September, 1759, to defeat Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham, which look down on the new harbor Quebec has recently developed at a cost of millions of dollars.

A NEW TUNNEL

Wolfe's Cove Terminal, as the new wharf will be called, will be linked with the rest of Canada by a great tunnel, just over a mile long. It will be driven through the solid rock which carries the city and the historically famous plains almost to within the shadow of Spencer Wood, the official residence of the provincial Lieutenant-Governor, and will join the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway at St. Malo, just outside the city limits.

Work on the whole project, which will cost some $2,000,000, was begun during the summer and to-day 300 men are working in day and night shifts to complete it for the arrival of the new 42,500-ton Empress of Britain, early next season. Over 1,000 feet of the pilot tunnel has been driven from each end, while the bore has been developed to its full size for a distance of about 250 feet, both at St. Malo and Champlain Street and the placing of the concrete lining has been begun.

When navigation closes this winter, the Empresses will say farewell to the Louise Embankment and the adjoining wharves at which they have been housed in bygone years and with the opening of the new season the new harbor will be put into operation. Care is being taken to blend the tunnel-mouths into their surroundings and when the concrete portals are completed the new traffic link will in no way detract from the scenic beauty for which the territory has so long been famous.

FLEXIBILITY URGED IN NEW INDIA RULE

COMMITTEE STARTS WORK

The federal relations committee, which is to endeavor to formulate a federal constitution for India, has been summoned for a provisions meeting Monday afternoon. Some of the questions before that important committee are:

1. The nature of the component units which are to be fitted into the scheme of federation.

2. The nature of the central coordinating structure.

3. Relations of the central structure and the provinces.

4. The relations of the central structure and the Indian states.

5. Provisions to secure the willing co-operation of minorities with their special interests.

6. The subjects with which the central structure will deal and, in general, its powers, functions and responsibilities.

The committee consists of thirty-two members, representative of the British delegation, British India and the Indian native states. It has before it a long and arduous task.

FLEXIBILITY DESIRED

Premier MacDonald told the Indian minorities spokesmen the case they had presented had not fallen on deaf ears.

His own contribution to the architecture of an Indian constitution, he said, would be to secure a flexible federation "which will meet your historical inheritance so far as it is worthy to be carried into the future."

"Between this meeting and the end of our conference," said the Prime Minister, "remains the task of thinking, considering and pondering on the problems before us. I leave the chair promises to stir international interest."

"In the maritime areas have been suggested for Federal park reservations. We are doing all the winter work possible in our parks in order to meet unemployment."

INDIAN AFFAIRS

Dr. Duncan C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, is in Vancouver and also W. E. Ditchburn, Indian commissioner at Victoria, and they will confer with the Minister in Vancouver and Victoria. The Minister is accompanied by George F. Buekard, his secretary.

One of the first visitors to greet the minister after his arrival in Vancouver this morning was Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Provincial Minister of Lands. Mr. Loughheed welcomed him to British Columbia, but did not take up any matters of business. Mr. Murphy indicated he would take up affairs of mutual interest with provincial ministers before his return to the east.

ROAD WORK

Touching on the unemployment situation, Mr. Murphy said he had been advised by Senator Gordon Robertson, Minister of Labor, that the Federal Government was prepared to carry on work to the extent of $100,000, on the Big Bend road this winter. He added that amount would come out of the allocation made to British Columbia and would be contingent on acceptance under the usual terms by the Provincial Government.

Bucharest, Roumania, Nov. 21.—King Carol is slightly ill, but is continuing his tasks of state. He had a chill yesterday, but insisted on granting audiences to various callers. It was said to-day King Carol had taken to his bed with a cold. Premier Mironescu also is ill with a cold.

Dominion Chamber of Commerce Delegation Goes to City From Hongkong

Hongkong, China, Nov. 21.—The touring party of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce arrived at this populous British port in Southern China this morning after a sea voyage of 850 miles from Shanghai. The travelers left the latter place Tuesday afternoon, sailing down through the East China Sea, Formosa Strait and the South China Sea.

John M. Imrie, Edmonton, chairman of the delegation, and W. McI. Clarke, Montreal, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, paid an official call on the governor of Hongkong and then called on the presidents of both the British and Chinese Chambers of Commerce.

NINETY-MILE VOYAGE

The delegation spent the day sight-seeing and left this evening for Canton, where Dr. Sun Yat Sen originated the Nationalist movement which has become the official government in China. Canton is ninety miles north-west of Hongkong and seventy miles from the mouth of the Canton River.

The delegation's programme in Hongkong next week includes a reception by the Governor, a luncheon by the British Chamber of Commerce, a dinner by Chinese importers and a reception by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

Several committees will meet corresponding groups from Hongkong and Canton.

THREE ACTS DEALT WITH

Questions left over from 1926, Mr. Guthrie explained, related to the Colonial Laws Validity Act, the Merchant Shipping Act and the Naturalization Act of 1915, all of which were dealt with by the Dominion Chamber of Commerce, which up till then had been in force in all the Dominions.

The 1926 Conference appointed a sub-committee to consider and report on the effect of the Dominion statutes on Dominion legislation. The report of the committee was adopted by the Parliament of Canada, and the recent Conference in London had to deal with a number of questions arising out of the report.

Mr. Guthrie said that a great majority of the points a unanimous report was agreed upon, some of those passed on involved amendments to the constitutional acts under which the various Dominions now carried on. Premier Bennett, Mr. Guthrie added, had received a number of protests from provincial governments against an amendment to the British North America Act without consultation with the provinces. Protests had come from Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia and one or two other provinces.

AGREEMENT SIGHT

Mr. Bennett, said Mr. Guthrie, had taken care to protect the rights of the provinces, and in order to obviate this, he had proposed a new amendment to draft a tentative statute which carried out all the suggested amendments. This would have to be passed by the Dominion Parliament, but first all the Dominions would have to agree. The date for final approval had been fixed as September 1, 1931.

STRENGTH TEST OF TWO BRITISH LABOR WINGS

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 21.—The MacDonald Government's position in Parliament, already precarious, may be adversely affected by the widening of the breach between the right and left wings of the party.

The national executive of the party has decided to take action against those labor members of parliament and parliamentary candidates who are soundly guilty of breaches of discipline or of disloyalty to the party. This is a direct challenge to the Independent Labor Party, which is now asking its members to vote against the government in all cases where labor ministers depart from the policy endorsed by the I.L.P. Up to now, "wedge" members of parliament have pledged themselves to do this.

The labor candidate in the forthcoming election in East Renfrew, Baillie Irwin, has announced that if elected he will subscribe to this pledge and consequently the national executive has unanimously declined to endorse his candidature.

In view of this refusal, the I.L.P. has decided that as many of its members as possible should proceed immediately to Scotland to support the candidature of Irwin as a gesture of independence.

The aggressive attitude of the left wing is all the more significant in view of the fact Sir Oswald Mosley, former member of the present ministry, headed the thirty-fifth wing who at a meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party yesterday voted against the motion recommending that W. J. Brown, member for West Wolverhampton, should be reported to the national executive for referring in parliament to a document which had been issued privately to labor M.P.'s for their information. The motion was carried by 116 to thirty-five after Sir Oswald had made a fiery speech which was practically a direct challenge to the government.

Bukharin Whipped Into Line By Soviet Leaders In Russia

Moscow, Nov. 21.—Nicolai Ivanovitch Bukharin, one of the former leaders of the Privy Councilmen of an appeal by the right wing Communist Party opposition, yesterday confessed the error of his way and sought readmission into the Communist Party fold.

In a lengthy published statement he repudiated all his previous views on the International Communist movement and conditions in Russia as erroneous.

Bukharin, formerly editor of Pravda, official Communist Party organ, was expelled a year ago from the political bureau of the central committee of the party.

Brighter Days!

You need not punish a sluggish system with purgatives that do violence. Just chew a pleasant Cascarets before bedtime. Next morning you'll be a new person. Candy Cascarets are made from cascara—which doctors say actually strengthens the bowels muscles. So their action is always beneficial. They clear up a stubborn, bilious, headachy and constipated condition every time. You awake with coating gone from tongue; with eyes brightened; breath sweetened; appetite on edge. For a bright morning, try a Cascarets tonight. Then you'll know why 20 million boxes are used every year.

WINNIPEG THUGS ESCAPE WITH $175

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Three armed bandits secured $175 in cash in a raid on a sausage company here yesterday evening. The trio robbed an employee of $100 and stole $75 from the office till. The office safe was also broken by the thieves and an undetermined amount taken.

VICEROY CURZON INCIDENT OF 1905 EXPLAINED

By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 21.—The silence of a quarter of a century was broken yesterday when Lord Middleton, Secretary of State for India from 1903 to 1905, revealed the circumstances surrounding the withdrawal of Lord Curzon from the post of Viceroy of India in 1905, after less than a year of his second term.

Most historical authorities record Lord Curzon had an unfortunate controversy with Lord Kitchener over the status of the military member of the Executive Council.

Lord Middleton dispelled this in a speech at Guildford. Lord Curzon was withdrawn, he said, because of his insistence of a policy which in the opinion of His Majesty's Government would have caused trouble with Russia and Afghanistan. Lord Curzon desired to conduct India's foreign policy without regard to the possible effects on the whole Empire, and considered it necessary to advise operations in Tibet which would have greatly disturbed Russia and Afghanistan, Lord Middleton went on.

The cabinet was unanimously prepared to follow the representations Lord Curzon desired to make, and consequently the Viceroy resigned.

WAR CLAIMS ARE SETTLED, SAYS CAHAN

Canadian Press

Quebec, Nov. 21.—Satisfactory agreements with Germany and Austria for the settlement of all claims arising out of the sequestration of enemy property in Canada and of Canadian property in Germany and Austria during the Great War were concluded by Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, who returned to Canada yesterday evening aboard the liner Empress of Australia from visits to London and Berlin. The agreements were negotiated in accordance with the terms of The Hague protocol accepting the Young Plan.

At the request of the Canadian Government, Mr. Cahan accompanied by Thomas Mulvey, Under Secretary of State, went to Berlin a month ago. The agreement with Germany was signed by him on behalf of Canada and on behalf of Germany by Dr. J. Curtius, German Foreign Minister.

Mr. Cahan then went to London to be present at the Imperial Conference, and while there concluded the agreement with Austria through Baron Frankenstein, Austrian Ambassador to Great Britain.

C.N.R. IS ORDERED TO PAY WIDOW

Quebec, Nov. 21.—Word has been received here from London of the rejection by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council of an appeal by the Canadian National Railways against a finding of the Quebec Workmen's Compensation Board.

In November, 1929, J. L. Richard, stationmaster for the company at Amnash, Beloeil, was drowned in a water tank. After hearing the case the Compensation Board ordered the company to pay to the widow and children $78 a month up to a total sum of $6,000. On the company's refusal to conform to the board's order, Mrs. Richard took the case to the Supreme Court in Montreal, where Judge Boyer upheld the decision of the board. Following that the railway company sought an appeal in the Court of King's Bench in Montreal, and on rejection of its plea, with costs, carried the case to the Privy Council.

NEW PROMISE OF PEACE IN CHINA

Peking, China, Nov. 21.—Prospects of durable peace throughout China were enhanced yesterday when twenty-five Shanai and Kuomintang generals telegraphed from Tientsin to Nanking pledging themselves to support the Nationalist Government. They asked for instructions.

The Nanking Government only recently succeeded in the in pushing down a revolt led by Yen Shi-shan for many years governor of Shanai province, and Feng Yu-hsiang, head of the Kuomintang, or people's army.

TEST VOTE PLANNED

London, Nov. 21.—A formal motion censuring the MacDonald Labor Government for what are described as its failure to formulate any effective proposals for the extension of foreign trade and its refusal to consider offers made by the Dominion was signed by five prominent Conservatives yesterday. The motion probably will be discussed at an important session of the House of Commons next week. The leaders who signed the paper were Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Rt. Hon. L. M. C. S. Amery, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans and Lord Stanley.

FARMERS ELECT LEADER

Portage la Prairie, Man., Nov. 21.—W. J. Ward, former Progressive Member of Parliament for Dauphin, yesterday was elected president of the United Farmers of Manitoba for the ensuing year. Among the candidates named for the office was Thomas Wood, president for the last three years. Defeat of Mr. Wood marked the first election and had not been returned since the general election in Dauphin constituency.

CANADA GIVES PILOT BOYD WELCOME HOME

Toronto Transatlantic Airman and Navigator Connor Greeted at Quebec

Canadian Press

Quebec, Nov. 21.—A warm welcome home greeted Captain J. Errol Boyd, Canadian transatlantic airman, and his navigator and friend, Lieut. Harry P. Connor, a member of the United States Naval Reserve, when the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford docked at Quebec yesterday evening. To-day the liner is steaming up the River St. Lawrence to Montreal, where another rousing welcome awaits the first Canadian to cross the Atlantic by airplane.

The Duchess of Bedford had barely stopped at Quebec yesterday evening before Mrs. Boyd was aboard, anxious to greet her husband. His face wreathed in a broad grin, Captain Boyd, who is a Toronto citizen, took his wife and his little daughter Virginia, aged three, in his arms. It was a pleasant reunion after many weeks of worry and suspense over his long flight.

After a few words with his wife and daughter, Captain Boyd turned to shake hands with Mayor Lavigne and Chief of Police Trudel, both of whom were officially welcomed. Captain Boyd and Lieutenant Connor to Quebec.

DESCRIBE FLIGHT

Quiet and friendly, Boyd answered their questions, and the two recounted details of the flight across the Atlantic aboard the famous monoplane Columbia. It was inconceivable, said Captain Boyd, that the crossing of the Atlantic by steamer was much more comfortable than by plane. Nevertheless he would always remember the hours he and Connor spent in the air above the ocean.

FLY BLIND

"During the night, before the flight ended, navigation became difficult. It was black as pitch. There were no stars in sight and no moon. I was flying blind in the darkness. I had to steer by compass, but then was had no way of fixing our position. We had no radio. It was terribly cold up there. We soon became stiff-jointed and blue with the cold. To add to the discomfort, ice began forming on our wings. A fair wind did not help us at all. I had to be alert at the controls. But that could not last forever. In the first streaks of dawn, Harry tapped me on the shoulder, pointed ahead, smiled and said, 'land.' I thought he was mistaken, because several times before we had thought we had seen cities, fields and airports to land on, only to find them non-existent, a sort of aerial mirage. After flying a few more minutes I became convinced. We laughed and shouted like kids who have pressed our joy. But it was short-lived. DUMPED GASOLINE

"We had to turn on the gasoline supply in the fuselage tank. But the pipe was frozen, we soon found out. We had to find a landing place right away. I dropped down a bit and let-tensioned our useless gasoline through a dump valve, to lighten our glide through loss of weight and also to prevent a fire should we crash in landing. "We looked down on a rocky coastline, with huge breakers pounding large boulders and cliffs. I saw I would have to land the Bellanca on a narrow strip of beach about 300 yards long, bounded on one side by the sea and on the other by huge rocks and dunes. Well, we managed it, and found we were in the Scilly Isles."

The Duchess of Bedford was scheduled to dock at Montreal this afternoon.

GERMANS TALK OF MORATORIUM ON YOUNG PLAN

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Foreign Minister Julius Curtius yesterday evening told the nation and the world Germany might be compelled to invoke the safeguard measures of the Young Plan. These safeguarding measures refer to a moratorium on the convocation of a special advisory committee to bring about alleviation permissible under the plan.

The Foreign Minister's speech constituted Germany's first official intimation she is likely to invoke her right under the plan to declare a moratorium.

Dr. Curtius expressed sharp criticism of Europe's sluggish attitude toward disarmament and in connection with a recent speech on that issue by Premier Tardieu of France, declared Germany would demand an early disarmament conference "where each nation must show its colors and its real intentions."

He prefaced his speech with the assertion he was not offering the subject of the country's financial position for discussion, but was making a plain statement of facts. He assured the world Germany had no intention of scrapping the Young Plan and that Germany would invoke no alleviatory measures to the Young Plan until its burdens should become dangerously oppressive to its people.

BANK CASHIER KILLS ROBBER

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 21.—Left in charge of the suburban branch of a big bank for a few minutes this morning, the cashier, M. R. Hodgkinson, not only beat off a desperate attack by three gunmen, but fatally shot one of them after being himself seriously wounded. The baffled gunmen, who had been waiting for the cashier to leave, were found dumped on a sand hill just outside the city.

MARTIAL LAW IF IT IS NEEDED

Havana, Nov. 21.—The Cuban Senate in a midnight session, authorized President Machado at his discretion to extend to all the nation suspension of constitutional guarantees, granted some time ago for Havana and its environs.

The Lower House must now act on the Presidential request for additional emergency authority. Meanwhile the general situation is quiet.

The government ordered arrest of a number of student leaders of the university whose names were not divulged, after they had sent an ultimatum saying they would not compromise their difficulties with the government unless the administration was changed.

BARCELONA MILLS STILL ARE IDLE

Barcelona, Nov. 21.—The Radical left wing labor group continued its general strike to-day despite abandonment of the movement by other labor elements. Practically all big mills and factories continue idle, though many smaller industries are functioning.

Conditions are calm in the central business sections, but unsettled in the suburbs and surrounding industrial regions.

CANADA DIRECTLY AFFECTED

MUCH NEWSPAPER SPACE THESE days is being devoted to discussions of the effect Russia's policy of dumping primary commodities in the markets of the world is having upon the international economic structure, what effect it is likely to have in the future, and what can or should be done about it. From London comes an intimation of a proposal to form a huge Anglo-Russian trade corporation to handle the distribution of a large portion of Soviet exports both in Britain and overseas. The basis of the scheme, we are told, is that British bankers would supply working capital to the extent of $50,000,000 with which to finance such products for export. The price of this accommodation, however, would be an undertaking on the part of Russia to agree to curtail present wheat dumping and allow wheat instead to be stabilized by withholding exports for release at certain specified dates and in specified quantities. Such a proposal naturally is of direct interest to the wheat growers of Canada.

Certain formulas may be applied in an attempt to improve the world's business condition. They may be partly or wholly successful in stabilizing the distribution of certain commodities. But the thing to be remembered where wheat is concerned is that Russia is not playing a new role by any means. She is getting back to the position she occupied before the war. In those days her vast areas produced sufficient wheat to permit of the export of between 150,000,000 and 250,000,000 bushels annually, and a goodly portion of this found ready purchasers in Great Britain.

War and revolution put an end to Russia for the time being as a factor in the world wheat market from the selling standpoint. Indeed, up till a year or so ago she was not producing sufficient for her own needs. In the interim Canada stepped into her place and captured many of her markets. Russia now has come back; she is dumping her product in several countries at prices with which Canadian and other producers are unable to compete and make a profit.

It is the outcry against this policy we are hearing from many quarters; but apparently it leaves Russia quite cold, since she is not worrying over almost universal condemnation of the conditions of virtual slavery under which she is supposed to be producing her wheat and other agricultural or industrial products. Her crying need is cash and credit. Give her this accommodation, she says in effect, or else she will continue to wreak her vengeance upon all nations who give her the cold shoulder by her cut-rate export of varied commodities.

This is the condition which has to be faced. It will not be altered by calling the Soviet government nasty names, by trying to ignore the existence of the country's 150,000,000 people, or by resorting to spectacular but uneconomic political expedients. If Russia's policy were a bluff, it soon could be called. But several countries, Canada in particular, have discovered that there is a very disagreeable substance in it which demands careful handling.

MOVING TO THE CITIES

EVERY YEAR A LARGER PERCENT- age of the American populace lives in cities. With ever-increasing rapidity, the United States is becoming an urban civilization. But Lot's wife seems to have a good many counterparts nevertheless. In the great march to the cities there are many who turn their heads for a regretful look backwards.

The latest to take this wistful backward glance is Charles Hanson Towne, the well-known editor and writer. In the current issue of Harper's Bazaar, Mr. Towne asks dolefully:

"Why do we fret and live in our cities when we might be partakers of serenity? It is one of the human mysteries; and man is forever excusing himself by crying out that he cannot get away. Yet, if he knew how he would be renewed, not only physically but spiritually, he would seek these accessible paths, away from the hum and discord of his average days."

This sort of question, as cities grow larger and larger, and noise and congestion and confusion become more and more undurable, is probably going to be heard oftener and oftener. The average human being is not quite as dumb as some people have suspected; and the average human being is rapidly discovering that life in a big city is not all that it might be.

There are, of course, exceedingly powerful economic influences to create large cities. Factories have a way of clustering together—although, to be sure, there are signs now of a trend in the opposite direction. There are jobs in the cities, and the chances for wealth and fame. But you might amuse yourself some day by wondering if it is not simply man's gregarious nature and his fear of loneliness that are chiefly responsible.

The pioneers who settled the wilderness were not moved by that compulsion, as they were under other, more powerful compulsions. But their grandchildren felt it in all its force. There were many, many people who found life on farms and in remote country hamlets very lonely. When we speak of the young man who leaves his father's farm and moves to the city to get a job we usually assume that he is moved by a desire to better himself economically; but it is not at least as plausible to suppose that he goes because he wants the gayness, the companionship, the feeling of solidarity and nearness to his fellows that go with city life?

So much of our modern life is so artificial, and so artificial places for many of our inhabitants to live. And people are wondering how on earth this serenity that Mr. Towne speaks of can ever be come by in a big city, are casting the same wistful glances over their shoulders that Mr. Towne is casting.

Sooner or later, probably, there will be a change. The automobile has helped many people to get at least to the outskirts of metropolitan congestion. Perhaps, as time goes on, it will do more. For after a city gets about so big it becomes ninety per cent an abomination.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S AGRICULTURE

ACCORDING TO A RECENTLY ISSUED report by the provincial Department of Agriculture, the estimated value of agricultural production for the year 1929 is $62,632,890, compared with $58,664,243 for the previous year, an increase of $3,968,647, or 6.76 per cent. This increased value may be, to some extent, attributed to the prevailing high prices during 1929, although in the volume of production increases are to be noted in the case of livestock, poultry products, dairy products, grains, honey, wool, hops and vegetables other than potatoes.

Imports of agricultural products into British Columbia from other provinces in Canada, however, are valued at $16,186,368, against $16,284,020 in 1928, while imports from foreign points increased from $4,980,061 to $5,857,702. The total value of all imports, therefore, is $22,044,070, an increase for the year of $779,989, or 3.67 per cent. Exports for the year are valued at $9,834,585, a decrease from 1928 of $493,449.

In the case of fruits, harvesting conditions for all kinds were satisfactory. There was little or no rain during the cherry harvest, while other tree fruits, such as apples, pears and apricots, were harvested under most suitable weather conditions. The returns of loganberries and raspberries were satisfactory; the apple crop commanded good prices, and similar conditions prevailed insofar as other fruits are concerned.

The total vegetable crop amounted to 227,678 tons, valued at $8,825,135, compared with the 1928 production of 238,611 tons, of the value of $6,618,909, the crop averaging $52 a ton against $25 in the previous year. Market vegetables show an increase in production of 2,852 tons; and root crops produced amounted to 73,344 tons, valued at $1,628,237, against a yield of 68,486 tons, valued at $1,342,325 in 1928. An increase of 33.22 per cent is shown in the quantity of greenhouse cucumbers, and the production of outdoor cucumbers increased from 1,612 tons in 1928 to 1,839 tons in 1929, and greenhouse tomatoes and rhubarb both showed an increased tonnage over the previous year.

It will be noted that this province still is importing a large amount of agricultural products, a good deal of which it should be producing itself. There also is an annual shortage of meat, our imports of beef, lamb, mutton and pork similarly suggesting considerable opportunities for greater local production.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

SOVIET "PARADISE"

Russian coal, Russian lumber, and Russian wheat! What is the meaning of all this Soviet dumping? The British press considers it to be a part of a fixed policy to ruin the world's markets and bring about universal revolution. The plan depends for success on the production of goods and primary commodities by peasants working under conditions of abject slavery in huge government barracks. By flooding the world with cheap goods the Soviet hopes to show the discontented workers of other countries that capitalism is a failure, and that the workers' paradise can only be reached by Communism. But the workers' paradise is a fraud.

FRENCH LOANS

Four issues of French Government loans were made in this country between 1915 and 1918, and, since the franc was stabilized at one-fifth of its pre-war value, interest has been paid in paper francs, worth about two pence each. The British holders claim that they lent the principal in pounds at the rate of twenty-five francs to the pound, and that they are entitled to interest at that rate. They point out that the French Government has successfully claimed to be repaid certain foreign loans at the old rate of exchange. This is their strongest point, and it certainly does not seem fair that France should have it both ways, though she nearly always manages to do so.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, NOV. 21, 1905

The Board of Trade is keenly alive to the importance of confining the depredations of glanders to the unfortunate cattle of the mainland. On Saturday Secretary Elworthy, learning of the anxiety of local citizens, drew the attention of the mayor to the matter.

Within a couple of months Sel's Point will be the site of two of Victoria's most thriving industries, namely the British-American Paint Company and the British Columbia Soap Works. As mentioned in these columns some time ago, that property has been secured by W. J. Fendray for his factories, the C.P.R. having purchased the present location, including the buildings, for use in connection with the large hotel in the course of construction.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Northerly and westerly winds, fair, with stationary or lower temperature.

The last of the C.P.R. survey parties has returned for the winter. It has been operating between Nanaimo and Comox.

A well-attended meeting of the Victoria West voters took place last evening at the club-rooms when considerable routine business was disposed of. Beaumont Boggs acted as chairman, and Phil R. Smith as secretary.

A general meeting of the James Bay Athletic Association is scheduled to take place this evening at the club-rooms, when business of vital importance will come up for consideration. Among other matters, the date of the annual ball will be discussed. It is hoped some definite decision reached. A large attendance is desired.

CORRECTION

To the Editor:—I would like to correct an error in the report of my remarks at the Rotary Club luncheon. My statement was that while eighty per cent of the unemployment was rural, eighty per cent of the unemployment was from urban districts, not rural, as reported.

RE THE VICTORIA AIRPLANE BASE

To the Editor:—Lost, strayed or stolen, one Federal member (presumably representing Victoria at Ottawa), but obviously seeking seclusion, until Vancouver city definitely takes the airplane base away from Victoria. Nature's law is in the end the victor, pulling for Vancouver city; likewise no apologies to the C.N.R. who are interested elsewhere, so if Victoria stands for this further injury, but must have a severe attack of mental gout.

COAL

To the Editor:—I notice Mr. Galloway, the government engineer, is trying to tell people how to burn coal. I was burning it thirty years before he was born; why before there was coal, and I know how to burn it. I do not need to be told how to burn it. I do not need to be told how to burn it. I do not need to be told how to burn it.

HOUSEHOLDER

Nothing doing. To the Editor:—I noticed in your issue of November 12, 1930, a commentary on the British people's opinion regarding Mr. Bennett. The wind blew in his favor at the Canadian election, and the doubt he has cast upon the British people's opinion regarding Mr. Bennett. I am British by birth, and have been on both sides of the fence on political matters, but I cannot follow Mr. Bennett. I listened to him in the Royal Victoria, in Victoria previous to the election, and I concluded that if his ideas were put into operation it would be detrimental to business, and no doubt the British Government is of the same opinion, and that is the principal reason why they turned him down.

Here is Mr. Bennett's proposal: "I offer to the Mother Country and to all other countries the Empire, let preference in the Canadian market in exchange for a like preference in theirs, based upon the addition of a ten per cent increase in prevailing general tariffs, or upon tariffs yet to be created."

Mr. Bennett, it seems to me, some people's bodies become bloated when they get along in life, and their ideas are somewhat affected with the same complaint. After listening to Mr. Bennett, I thought if his ideas were put into operation they would not be any stimulant to business.

Now, I understand, they have only placed an additional tax on 180 different sorts of goods, and their idea of preference in the Canadian market in exchange for a like preference in theirs, based upon the addition of a ten per cent increase in prevailing general tariffs, or upon tariffs yet to be created.

that man has devised compares with it. I refer to the law of the tithe. A part of this was that if we obeyed God, He would guarantee us the increase. He claimed one-tenth of this increase as belonging to him, however.

Now, if we cannot believe the Bible we are in a pretty hopeless position and can have no real justification for Christianity. In the third chapter of the last book of the Old Testament God accuses His People of robbing Him. The reply is "In what way have we robbed you?" He replies "By withholding your tithes" and he throws down this challenge "Will you not prove me herewith, if I will not open the windows and pour you out a blessing that there will not be room enough to receive it? Now do we believe God or do we not? God's honor is involved. Can we afford at the present time to disregard this challenge?

Imagine the result in the present situation if the people of Victoria and in fact of all Canada would do this. What a fine spirit between them would result! And if we believe God, it would be at no cost to ourselves for He promises to plentifully make it up.

It means that of our net income we are to set aside one-tenth for God. Let us make up our minds to do this great thing at once, and hand over to the committee organizing the relief such as may be necessary and our troubles will be over. Moreover, it is exactly fair to rich and poor alike.

The faith of the Anglo-Saxon peoples has saved the world situation before.

$20,000,000 IS POOL LOSS ON 1929 CROP

Three Prairie Provinces Face
Terrifying Liabilities on Last Year's Wheat Operations

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Ottawa dispatch to the Winnipeg Tribune places the losses on the financing of the 1929 crop at $20,000,000. The Tribune says: "The Saskatchewan Government is involved to the extent of $12,000,000 and Manitoba and Alberta jointly to the total of $8,000,000. As against its obligations on behalf of the pool, there are some $17,000,000 worth of physical assets in Saskatchewan in the form of elevators and grain handling equipment."

The dispatch intimates that in order to protect itself the Saskatchewan Government would take over operations of pool elevators until the pool is on its feet again.

The Wheat Pool, however, has already insured the government of the prairie provinces against loss in guaranteeing the 1929 crop. In a statement issued at Regina Monday, Hon. Howard McConnell, Provincial Treasurer of Saskatchewan, said the pool had insured the government against loss. He said the Wheat Pool had given the government security on all of its surplus assets consisting of elevator properties, both terminal and country. The assets totaled more than $17,000,000, he added.

It is omitted there will be losses on the 1929 crop, unofficial estimates ranging from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. But pool authorities refuse to discuss the subject. The amount of the losses, they say, will not be known until the full balance of the 1929 crop has been fully disposed of. The pools, it has been stated, with the approval of provincial governments, plan to take care of any loss outside of ordinary revenue, spread over a period of years.

LIEUT.-GOVERNORS OF KIWANIS AREAS ARE ANNOUNCED

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Isaac P. McNabb of Peterboro, Ont., 1931 governor-elect of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime Kiwanis district, attending an international gathering of Kiwanis here today announced the following lieutenant-governors for the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime district for 1931: D. Roy Kennedy, I. J. Williams, Maynard Hamilton, Ont.; Dr. Garrett E. Tanner, Mich.; and Charles A. Fowler of Halifax, N.S.

The present governor is Dr. William A. Lewis of Barrie, Ont. The first Kiwanis club in the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime district was built in Hamilton, Ont., February, 1917. At present there are forty-two clubs with a membership of over 3,000. The service organization which was founded in Detroit in January, 1915, now has a total number of 1,371 clubs in the United States and Canada, with a membership of 100,000.

Mr. McNabb urged all clubs to study community membership. "There is an inexhaustible supply of service club membership material in each of our communities," he declared. "Our hundreds of civic and welfare activities demand men able to take community responsibilities."

The international committee on public affairs for Canada is composed of William F. Roberts, chairman, St. John, N.B.; Kenneth Ferguson, Victoria, B.C.; Charles L. Fyon, Montreal, Quebec; D. R. Harrison, Port Arthur, Ont.; and Richard W. Moore, Saskatoon.

Capt. C. E. Jenkins of Brantford, Ont., is the Canadian vice-president of Kiwanis International. Dr. Charles Caryle Tatham of Edmonton, Alta., is serving as a member of the international board of trustees. F. Stacey McCall, also of Edmonton, is a member of the committee on the Miami convention programme. Fred L. McAllister of London, Ont., is chairman of both the laws and regulations, and goodwill and grievances committees.

Dr. William A. Lewis of Barrie, Ont., is a member of the committee studying international conventions. George H. Ross of Toronto is a past president of Kiwanis, having served during the year 1922-1923.

LAST ESSAYS OF BIRKENHEAD ARE PUBLISHED

London, Nov. 21.—The last essays of the late Earl of Birkenhead, published to-day, reveal he never ceased to regret the break-up of the political partnership between himself and Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George following the Conservatives' withdrawal from the coalition nearly a decade ago.

He was evidently uncertain whether the Welsh wizard would ever return to power. "So great is his skill in political manoeuvre, and so enormous the glamor of his name in a country where men will do everything for him but vote for his nominees, that those would be rash prophets who ruled out the impossible chance he has of once again becoming the national leader," Lord Birkenhead wrote.

Most people want a hot breakfast dish for a cold day. Shredded Wheat is deliciously warming when eaten with hot milk. Crisp the biscuits in the oven and pour hot milk over them. The flavory shreds retain enough crispness to encourage thorough chewing—that's one reason it's so good for children. Delicious for any meal with fresh or stewed fruits.

FULL GRAIN
POOL PLAN IS
PUT TO VOTEAnnouncement of Decision of United Farmers of Manitoba
Convention Awaited

Canadian Press

Portage la Prairie, Man., Nov. 21.—One hundred per cent. pool was the outstanding question awaiting decision this morning when the United Farmers of Manitoba began the closing day of their four-day annual meeting here. Among the thirty-odd resolutions yet to be considered by the convention stood the perfect pool proposal already backed by a ballot of pool farmers in Saskatchewan.

The 100 per cent. pool was brought before the convention in striking terms yesterday evening by Colin H. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool. Manitoba pool delegates recently voted to set an educational programme on the plan into operation, with a ballot at a later date. Mr. Burnell saw a 100 per cent. pool as a possible outcome of the difficulties of the great prairie wheat selling bodies.

FULL SUPPORT

"If the pool should go down to-night, farmers of the West would rise up as a man and demand a 100 per cent. pool," forecast Mr. Burnell, comparing the power of the prairie farmer with that of Samson pulling down the pillars of the temple in a display of dying strength. He said he would give his full support to the plan if he thought it desirable for the farmers of Manitoba.

The outright stand of the Manitoba Pool leader in favor of the proposal marked the first time a pool president had been so favorable to the plan. A. J. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan body voted overwhelmingly in its favor. Henry Wise Wood, veteran president of the Alberta Pool, has made statements emphatically opposed to the plan.

LEGISLATION NEEDED

Under the compulsory or 100 per cent. pooling plan, governments of the provinces enacted enabling legislation on the question. A two-thirds vote would place all grain under control of one provincial body. Already the Saskatchewan Government is stated to have promised such legislation and W. J. Ward, president-elect of the United Farmers of Manitoba, is openly in favor of a referendum in Manitoba.

Referring to the status of the pools, Mr. Burnell yesterday evening stated the Canadian Wheat Pool was not going into liquidation unless the lending banks should cease their support. He did not believe the banks would forsake the pool because, he said, the pools, banks, grain trade, Canadian businessmen and non-pool men were all on the same raft.

He claimed that if the banks were not strong enough, the governments would have to bear the responsibility whether they wanted it or not.

Salt Spring

Ganges, Nov. 21.—A large crowd is expected at the Mahon Hall on Monday evening, November 24, when the senior and junior basketball teams of the Ganges Athletic Association will play the Salt Spring to play the Ganges Athletic boys. At the conclusion of the games, supper will be provided at a nominal charge. A dance will follow at which Hage's orchestra will be in attendance, and a good time is anticipated by all.

Mrs. Douglas Hamilton returned to Ganges on Wednesday evening after spending five days at Keating, the guest of Mrs. E. M. Hamilton.

Miss Evelyn Jackson returned home on Monday evening to Pultford Harbor, after an absence of several weeks at Duhaan.

Mrs. A. Davis, of "Bathmore," Pultford Harbor, returned on Monday from a short visit to Victoria.

In the regular cribbage games played here Tuesday evening, the Masons and B.P.O. Elks assumed a clear lead over their closest rivals in the Inter-lodge Cribbage tournament, by defeating the Buffaloes and Canadian Legion by scores of 19-13 and 18-14, while the Eagles and Moose were fighting to a 16-all tie. The Native Sons of Canada won from the Sons of Norway by a score of 20-12.

Next Tuesday the Elks and Masons meet.

Cumberland

Special to The Times

Cumberland, Nov. 21.—The provincial field director of the Women's Benefit Association, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, was a visitor to Review No. 17, Cumberland. The occasion was a particularly happy one, the local review being highly complimented by Mrs. O'Brien on holding premier honors in the Province for net gain results, and special greetings were conveyed to the review from the supreme president, Elma West Miller. Sixteen new members were initiated. Following the meeting refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. A handsome basket, made and given by Mrs. H. Bryant of Courtenay, filled with artificial flowers and foliage was drawn for, and won by Mrs. Kenmare. On Wednesday afternoon the review held a well-patronized tea and bazaar in the Fraternal Hall. Plain and fancy sewing, home cooking and candy were offered for sale.

The girls' senior basketball team, the Eagles, held a highly successful whist drive and dance in the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening. Twenty-two tables were in play, and first prizes were won by Mrs. A. Walker and Mrs. Westfield. Ladies second place was a tie between Mrs. George Richardson and Miss Evelyn Laing, the former being eventually the lucky one, and men's second prize by George Brown. The girls served refreshments after the cards, and dancing was kept up till midnight.

Duncan

Duncan, Nov. 21.—Over $100 was raised at a very successful sale of work held under the auspices of St. Mary's W.A. at St. John's Hall last week. Mrs. Gorton gave vocal solos during the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Lionel Henslowe, which were much enjoyed. The various booths were as follows: Plain and fancy sewing, Mrs. G. V. Hopkins and Mrs. A. S. Thompson; home-cooking, Mrs. Dunkley and Mrs. J. White; candy, Mrs. Henslowe; white elephant, Mrs. Tisdall, assisted by Miss Dorothy McKinnell and Miss Carus Leakey. Afternoon tea was served under supervision of Mrs. Stenton, assisted by Mrs. A. Goddard, Mrs. Napier, Mrs. Jobling and Miss Betty Goddard. The "Wonder Box," in charge of Miss Eunice Chaplin, was won by Mrs. A. S. Thompson. The Convent Garden market donated a roast of beef for people to guess the weight, and this was most correctly done by Mrs. Hopkins.

WHEN WINTER SWEEPS DOWN
FROM THE NORTH

Extra demands of cold-weather
driving emphasize the reliability
of the new Ford

THROUGHOUT this country—in the United States and in Europe—the new Ford has made an unusual record for endurance and reliability. Cold weather emphasizes the value of its simplicity of design and dependable performance.

The 1930 Automobile Winter Race, arranged by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden, resulted in a sweeping victory for the Ford cars. This run was made over slippery mountainous roads. At times, the cars were half hidden by snow. During the night the temperature was twenty degrees below zero.

At Fernan Lake, just over the border in Idaho, a Ford car went through the ice and was submerged in fifteen feet of water. It was finally raised after twelve days and found to be in good condition. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed it was driven away under its own power. Even the exterior finish showed no serious harm.

Here in Canada there have been countless examples of the way the Ford stands up under the added strain of winter driving.

Through swirling sleet and drifting snow it has fought its way on missions of business and of urgent need. Lives have been saved by its ability to "get through." Materials have been moved with greater speed and with less interruption for a longer period each year. Thousands of Ford owners have found that it is no longer necessary to lay up the car when winter sweeps down from the north.

Because of its good performance in all weather, the new Ford is outselling every other car in Canada by a large and increasing margin. In many sections, between 50% and 70% of all cars sold are Model A Fords.

THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

Winter-time Features of the New Ford

STARTING—The Ford starts easily in cold weather. The heavy duty starting motor is unusually reliable, exerting a torque of 15 pounds. Its extra power equips it to meet the added strain of zero temperatures.

RELIABILITY—All working parts in the Ford that might be affected by snow or water are fully enclosed. This includes the engine, transmission, clutch, propeller shaft, and all rear-end parts.

SAFETY—The brakes on the new Ford are also enclosed to insure reliable performance. Combined with the balance of the car and the low center of gravity, they lessen the dangers of skidding on slippery roads. The liberal road clearance enables the car to negotiate deeply rutted roads impassable to many cars. Other safety features are the shatterless glass windshield which reduces the dangers of flying glass in collisions and the sturdy steel construction of the car.

IGNITION—The Ford distributor is waterproof and there are no wires from the distributor to the spark plugs. These connections are made by thin bronze strips which will not short-circuit or cause trouble in cold, wet weather.

CARBURETOR—The choke on the dash of the new Ford is a convenient carburetor adjustment control. It enables you to adjust the mixture for different temperatures and different road conditions. The hot-spot manifold warms incoming gases quickly by using heat from the exhaust.

FUEL SYSTEM—Here again you see the value of Ford simplicity of design. The fuel line is only 18 inches long. There is no pump or vacuum tank to condense moisture and freeze.

LUBRICATION—The Ford lubrication system is designed to work efficiently at all temperatures. All oil passages are ample in size. There are no small pipes through which congealed oil must be forced. Just select the right kind of oil, have it changed regularly, and you will have no lubrication troubles with a Ford.

FINISH—All Ford cars are finished in pyroxylin lacquer—the finest and most enduring finish for automobile bodies. It is not affected by cold or heat and will retain its original shimmering luster for a long period. A further assurance of permanent beauty is the Rustless Steel on the new Ford. It is used for the radiator shell, head lamps, hub caps and other bright exterior metal parts.

NOTED BRITISH WOMAN DOCTOR DIES IN LONDON

Dame Mary Scharlieb, Pioneer Surgeon, Passed at Age of 85 Years To-day

London, Nov. 21.—Dame Mary Scharlieb, widely known British woman physician, died to-day at a nursing home where she has been ill for some weeks of heart disease. She was eighty-five years of age.

PIONEER IN INDIA

Dame Scharlieb was one of the pioneer medical women of Great Britain. Born in 1845, as Miss Mary Ann Deane, she received part of her medical education at Madras Medical College, India, receiving her diploma in 1878. In the same year she studied at the Royal Free Hospital and School of Medicine for Women in London, taking the M.B. and B.S. degrees of London University in 1882, and winning the gold medal and scholarship in obstetric medicine, and honors in medicine, forensic medicine and surgery.

In 1883, after her marriage to a barrister practicing in India, Dr. Scharlieb returned to India and became lecturer in mid-wifery and gynaecology at Madras Medical College and examiner to the University of Madras for those subjects, also medical superintendent to the Royal Victoria Hospital for Caste and Goan Women, Madras.

HOSPITAL SURGEON

After several years in India, Dr. Scharlieb returned to England, and in 1888 took her London M.D., and in 1890 her M.B. For a number of years she was senior surgeon at the New Hospital for Women, London, and lecturer on obstetrics to the School of Medicine for Women.

In spite of her great age, she practiced to the time of her death, specializing in women's diseases and obstetrics and was consulting surgeon to the New Hospital for Women and to South London Hospital for Women, and a Governor of St. Mary's College, Paddington. She was also the author of a number of medical books for women.

In 1917, Dr. Scharlieb was decorated with the C.B.E. in recognition of her outstanding services, and in 1926 was created a Dame of the British Empire. Dame Scharlieb was one of the notable women whom Mrs. C. de V. Schofield met during her recent trip to England.

residents in Camberley and Primley, Surrey, to Miss Marjorie Foster, who this year was the first woman to win the King's prize at Bisley.

Miss Foster was taken from her parents' residence two and one-half miles on the Primley fire engine, which was fully manned, to receive the official presentation of a new four-seater motor car and an illuminated book containing the names of over 600 representatives of all classes of residents in the district. The chairman said they were extremely proud that in a year when women had signally triumphed in the air, in art, politics, literature, science, and in almost every branch of sport a young lady who for many years had resided in their own parish had beaten all the best marksmen of the whole Empire.

In expressing thanks Miss Foster said there was no reason why every man and woman should not become a proficient rifle shot, especially in that district, where the Urban District Council had provided an up-to-date rifle range on the public recreation ground.

Women's Guild Tea.—Mrs. A. S. Christie will welcome the guests at the tea to be held to-morrow afternoon by the Women's Guild of the First United Church in the church hall. Mrs. J. Taylor will be general convenor and Mrs. E. Fleming will arrange the tea, assisted by Miss E. Macdonald, Mrs. G. Clifford and Mrs. R. A. Gould will be at the door and tea tickets will be in charge of Mrs. J. T. Conibear and Mrs. George Clark.

Y.P.S. Debate.—On Monday at 8 o'clock the Y.P.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will hold their weekly meeting in the lecture room. An interesting programme has been arranged in the form of a debate, the subject being, "Resolved that women should compete against men in business life." Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Japan is reducing telephone rates.

TO BE GUEST ARTIST WITH MALE CHOIR

MME. VEGNA SOCOLOFSKY

who will appear with the Victoria Male Choir at the Shrine Auditorium on Friday next, November 28. A writer on the occasion of her first visit a few seasons ago said: "Mme. Socolofsky so charmed her hearers with her soprano voice of crystalline beauty that it is to be hoped that she will return many times."

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVER ROBERTS BARTON

Helly there, dear.

The man of sixty put his arm round the shoulder of his thirty-two-year-old son and kissed him.

He had seen his son a week before and the performance was not unusual for them.

Now of all the men I have ever known, these two are just about the most masculine. The father is a well-known national figure and the son already has gained great prominence. They belong to a family known to its strict conformance to the rules of etiquette. Etiquette says, "No kissing in public." Yet there were many people present when this little demonstration of affection took place.

The young man's mother told me a few intimate things about the family. "Once, when I was having a luncheon in the old Delmonico's," she said, "my son came in. It was a rather formal affair. He walked over and kissed me, then kissed an aunt whom he had not seen for some time."

This she told me also: "Once we visited him in college. He was just seventeen then. Two years later when he was in France fighting I carried a certain picture of him in my heart. He was kneeling at his father's knee saying his prayers in that little stuffy college room before we said good-night."

Let the impression be given that this is a good-looking young man, a dandy, let me add that he isn't and never was anything of the sort, for I've known him a good while. Indeed he is quite a man-about-town, handsome, a splendid dresser, enormously popular, and smart. He has no complexes, no perversions, nor fixations.

It is just that between this father and son, and mother and son, there is a tie that cannot be described in words. Something infinitely deep and sacred. Friendship and love and reverence that time cannot change.

They take it so for granted. There is no shame or equivocation or apology about it. That boy loves his father and mother, they love him, and they show it to one another and don't care if the world sees.

Men are so inclined to hide their feelings. Boys begin to shut up and their fathers begin to call them "old man" and slap them on the back and shake hands.

They talk to them about school and sports and what the car needs and think they are being very paternal. While all the time that beanpole body is still a little boy starving inside for a little of the old love and a demonstration that eloquently says he has outgrown. What a pity!

Boys do go through a period of self-consciousness. They don't want to be kissed in the middle of the ball-field with the tears around. They'd hate it. But when they have no need to defend their manliness, when they are at home, I think they would be very happy to hear that blessed word "son" or "old man" from their fathers.

Men are always boys at heart. And very affectionate as a rule. When it comes to a show-down men are our real sentimentalists.

There is no virtue in our Anglican

Eighteenth.—After breakfast dial Mistress Castlemaine at Garden 1236 and arrange to meet her at Yates and Douglas Streets at ten. This new dial system is in truth far quicker and less expensively than I still sometimes do forget and listen for the operator to answer at the phone.

Mistress Castlemaine there first but quite good natured about waiting, in that she had walked down to Steven's and was looking over their attractive window display of art metal boxes which, filled with their delicious "Homemade" candies, make such welcome gifts for absent friends. Many boxes have already gone to Australia but she is still time to send. I must send them to friends in Great Britain now. The only charge Stevenson's make is for the postage and they attend to all the rough jobs of packing and posting. Such pretty boxes can find many uses when empty.

To Messrs. Robertsons Limited for some bridge prizes. Such an array of tiny floral ornaments of Crown Staffordshire, quite unique; indeed, "his difficult to choose—the lovely fragile English primrose, blooming gayly from a dainty basket, the delicate tearose, wallflowers, daffodils, anemones, delphiniums, tulips and bright Christmas holly in colorful profusion. How charmingly they would set off fine linen and silver or grace a lady's boudoir. I know a lady who has a winter garden of these sweet flowers and methinks it is a pretty conceit. 'Tis said that ladies like bargains but methinks Samuel hath a keen eye for good values and would choose the holly in that it now sells for 75 cents, whereas it used to sell for $1.50.

To post office, but enter the Marionette, so intrigued by bewitching windows are we. Methinks the book lover would be much pleased with bronze and polychrome book ends, in such subjects as the "Dance of Youth," "Troll's End," the noble "Police Dog," our saucy wire-haired terrier and many others. The dog lover, too, will find door stops and ash trays fashioned of wood, silver, and other materials. A splendid showing of English Christmas cards, an exclusive line and quite different—such reasonable prices used, will burn with as little soot and smoke as sootless coal and with more heat. 'Tis $1.00 cheaper too.

To town with Samuel in our new Ford sedan. Am astonished at the ease and comfort of riding in this new car and am very proud of its appearance. Did choose a lovely deep blue—very distinctive, with a fine line of golden hue. 'Twill match my latest costume for our new car. For me, buys a lovely little feather, button-made by hand. Learn these can be ordered to match costume at only $1.50. I pick up some pine tree decorated folders with little bits of sweet smelling pine needles within and some little leather needle cases at 20 cents, 35 cents and 50 cents.

To the Marbury Electric Company, where I am mightily pleased that Samuel is buying me a Kelvinator. He says it has a number of exclusive features and its special cold storage compartment will give much satisfaction. Mightily pleased with new tray for fast freezing in half the time the fascinating frozen desserts and convenient little ice cubes. I must surprise some casual caller with a dainty frozen delicacy some evening.

To the Comberwe, where Samuel much interested in unusual "Raven Myth" pottery, such soft colorings in tea tiles, vases, bowls, plaques and what not? Samuel buys lovely wall vase for our new car. For me, buys a lovely little feather, button-made by hand. Learn these can be ordered to match costume at only $1.50. I pick up some pine tree decorated folders with little bits of sweet smelling pine needles within and some little leather needle cases at 20 cents, 35 cents and 50 cents.

With Samuel to Diggon's for repairs that he wishes to choose some thing distinctive for gift for dentist friend and find just the thing, a flexible leather-covered appointment pad, which shows the days and hours, giving a whole week at a glance on one page. It has an artistic sundial design on the cover. Methinks Samuel would like one of their five-year diaries with lock and key.

Had waves looked on Primley & Ritchie Limited as primarily a bicycle shop but, on wandering through, do find they have expanded to take in many things. Quite a variety of Christmas wheeled goods on show, the famous "Joycycle" line, "Riker" wagons, scooters and other gifts to make children jump with excitement. I see they have the same staff that have been here a long time who have a thorough knowledge of the business.

Methinks Dales do have such a variety of good things to eat. I do find myself continually popping in there for some delicacy or other. A day or two ago I was there and to-day for other dainties. Island honey, truly there are no bees can excel our island variety in the art of honey making, for the flavour is delicious. Then they have some very nice sausage, some made of

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MARY ELIZABETH

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CHOOSE METHOD OF GIVING COD LIVER OIL AND START EARLY

Unless baby is taking one of the irradiated oils, it is very possible that his mother is bawling cod liver oil stains. There are many ways of giving cod liver oil, and it is timely to mention them now. If only one-half teaspoonful is given at a dose, the oil may be kept chilled and the dosage shot far back into the child's mouth by means of a medicine dropper. Use dropper with a short, straight, glass stem, washing and boiling it after each dose. Mothers who have used this method speak highly of it. The baby gets little taste of the oil, and because it is far back on the tongue it slips down easily.

SHOULD FOLLOW MEAL

If the oil is given right after a meal, instead of on an empty stomach, it is more apt to stay down. The baby should wear a bib when taking the oil, and an oilcloth one of generous size is good. Giving the oil when baby is in the bath is another method, but means that baby would have the oil on an empty stomach and would be subject to a good deal of necessary activity during the bath; so this method very often results in baby's spitting up the oil.

It is possible to give the oil with the formula, with orange juice, or with other fruit juices. I consider this a poor thing to do, as a rule, for if baby dislikes the oil, he also dislikes the food in which it has been administered. It is better to stick to the plain or flavored oil, and to give small doses alone.

Our leaflet on "Methods of Removing Cod Liver Oil and Other Stains" is extremely helpful, for such spots seem bound to appear despite the utmost care. If you wish the leaflet send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

START EARLY

The young baby is given cod liver oil persistently these days, beginning at the second month. Young babies are without sense of discrimination and cod liver oil is accepted without protest. The mother's attitude is influential, however, for if she administers the dosage with an expression of disgust, baby isn't going to gobble it up as if it were ambrosia. The older the child grows, the more finicky he becomes about new tastes and new foods, and the dosing of oil for this young independent creature is often a real struggle.

All babies, whether breast or bottle fed, need cod liver oil, and it behooves the mother to mask her own distaste and start it early enough in baby's life to prevent the development of rickets, and also to forestall that growing sense of taste and discrimination which make cod liver oil dosing a daily battle.

Horse Wins Same Race Twice at New York Track
Interesting Figures on Scoring Power of Canadians and Ottawa
Boston Bruins Again Seek Reform in N.H.L. Play-off System
Tod Morgan Gains Added Punching Power as a Lightweight

IN THE history of horse racing, quite a number of horses have won two races on the same day, but we have failed to find a record of a horse winning the same race twice, until Negodale did it recently at the Empire City meeting in New York. Negodale was one of a field of nine horses entered for the first race of the day at one mile and a sixteenth. He was ridden by the Toronto jockey, Norman "Duke" Foden, and when the barrier lifted went to the front and stayed there. As he was a 20 to 1 shot his backers cut loose some lusty cheering when his number went up. However, before the horses returned to the judges' stand Starter George Cassidy informed the stewards that it was a false start as he did not spring the barrier.

Although the fifth field went the mile and a sixteenth and the race had been truly run, the stewards ordered it to be run over, and again Negodale led from start to finish. This, of course, was fair enough for all concerned, except the horses, and they were a jaded lot when the second dash finished. The race was a settling contest and horses of that class are seldom keyed up to run two miles and an eighth. It was fortunate that Negodale repeated, as it left no cause for complaint on the part of the spectators.

Through the years since Montreal Canadiens flashed their colorful presence on the hockey world their rivalry with Ottawa has long been a well-established fact. Their bitter struggle goes back to the days of the old N.H.A. long since disbanded. The N.H.L. came into being in 1918 and since that time each club has won the Stanley Cup four times, which is a pretty fair average over a twelve-year span, all things considered.

Since the N.H.L. schedule was lengthened in 1926-27 to forty-four games, an interesting history is disclosed in the relationship of the two teams. Canadiens have been in the play-offs each year, and Ottawa out only once, in 1928-29. Since that time inclusive of play-offs, Canadiens have played 192 games with the beginning of the present season and scored 440 goals, or an average of 2.34 a game, while 278 goals have been scored against them, or an average of 1.42 a game.

Ottawa scored 372 goals in 185 games for an average of 2.01 a game, while Connell finished the rubber from behind him 317 times for the good average of 1.69. It is interesting to note that Connell and Joliat of the Canadiens, who have played in all contests in these four years have scored between them 190 goals, 77 assists and 245 points and have been responsible on an average for 47.50 goals, 19.20 assists and 61.20 points a year between them. The Ottawa team, Kilrea and Finnigan if they may be termed such, in view of the fact that one is twenty-three years of age and the other twenty-six, missed a number of games in 1928-29 through sickness and injuries. However, last year, Kilrea, with 36 goals, 22 assists and 58 points was the point leader in the Canadian section, while Finnigan was ninth with 21 goals and 15 assists. Morenz was the leading goal getter in the league with 40.

Different play-off arrangements in the National Hockey League are again desired by officials of the Boston Bruins. The Bruins' officials are shouting the need of a play-off reform for the second time in three years. An article from The New York Telegram outlines the Bruins' suggestions: "Using Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, as a medium, the Bruins have advanced the same arguments to all magnates in the ice circuit. Among other things, these circulars advocate a three-out-of-five game final, in which the type of play-off that bothers the New York hockey public, however, but the play-off system as a whole. The customers cannot understand why six out of ten teams in the National League should be given a chance to win the title after the regular season is over. They regard it as a waste of time and money, and quite at odds with the American baseball theory. Bill Dwyer, owner of the New York Americans, replied: 'He would prefer a world series between the leaders of the American and Canadian groups, and nothing else. The play-offs are purely a financial proposition, and he would install the baseball

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 21.—Another goalless match between Toronto and the New York Americans, the Montreal Canadiens sweeping triumph over their fellow-townsmen, the Maroons, and defeat of the powerful Boston and Detroit teams by Chicago and Ottawa respectively, were the highlights of yesterday evening's schedule in the National Hockey League.

ARSENAL IS EXPECTED TO SCORE A WIN

English First Division Football Leaders Oppose Middlesbrough To-morrow

Second Place Clubs Meet Stiff Opposition; Undefeated Notts Play Northampton

London, Nov. 21.—After several weeks in which the topnotchers in the First Division of the English Soccer League figured in matches against one another, next Saturday the leading teams will be engaged with clubs further down the championship table. Arsenal meet Middlesbrough at Highbury, and should win. They cannot be displaced from their league leadership by one game, anyway, as they have a three-point advantage over Derby County, Sheffield Wednesday and Portsmouth, which three clubs are bracketed in second place.

These sides all have stiff opposition from a group of clubs immediately beneath them in the table. Derby County will be hosts to West Ham, who are expected to win. Arsenal will travel to Leicester, while Portsmouth are at home to Liverpool. In the Second Division the pacemakers, Everton, meet Stoke City in Liverpool, and should add a couple of points to their total, which is already four points ahead of West Bromwich Albion and Preston North End, the runners-up. As in the First Division fixtures the second teams will be playing against some of the best of the balance of the clubs. Preston play Port Vale and West Bromwich Albion meet Tottenham Hotspur, and both must triumph.

In the Southern Section of the Third Division, a titbit is provided in the meeting of Notts County and Northampton, the first and second clubs, respectively, at Nottingham. Notts County have not yet been beaten, and on Saturday they will probably get the best opposition they have had so far this season.

The same situation will prevail in the Northern Section, where the leaders, Lincoln City, are drawn against Tranmere Rovers, the second team. They will clash at Lincoln.

Partick Thistle's meeting with Motherwell will be the highlight in the Scottish First Division games. Thistle are just now on the top of the heap, and Motherwell are in third place. The match will be played at Firhill, which will be an advantage to the Thistle.

Cricket Team Opens Australian Series

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 21.—The West Indian cricket team to-day opened its Australian tour with a match here against New South Wales. The West Indians scored 180 for the first innings and at the close of the day's play New South Wales had seventy-one for two wickets.

ESQUIMALT AND WESTS WILL CLASH

Undefeated Leaders of First Division Soccer Meet Green-shirts at Beacon Hill

Jokers and Victoria City Meet at Central Park; Saanich Thistles Idle

Determined to keep their undefeated record, Esquimalt, leaders of the First Division soccer table, will meet the Victoria West team to-morrow afternoon at Beacon Hill. The second match of the day will bring together the Jokers and Victoria City at the Central Park.

The Saanich Thistles will be idle. Both matches will start at 2:45 o'clock. Esquimalt, who have been treating the other clubs with no respect, what they call a "hard-hitting" style, will be favorites to take the Wests into camp in view of their splendid record. The Dockers are overwhelming favorites to win the league championship at present held by the Thistles. The Wests will introduce a new goaltender to First Division soccer to-morrow in the person of Restal, former net custodian for Saanich United in the Wednesday League. This youngster turned in a number of sensational performances for the mid-week club and will strengthen the Wests' back division. Esquimalt will field their usual team.

Needing a victory to remain on the heels of Esquimalt, and with a chance to gain the league lead should the Dockers be beaten, the Jokers will be hot after the scalps of Victoria City, Esquimalt and the Wests. It would boost them up into a tie with the Jokers for second place.

Line-ups
Maroons—Walsh; Wilcox, Conacher, Stewart, Smith, Siebert. Subs: Ward, Phillips, Trotter, Ruggins, E. Roche, D. Roche, Haynes, Gallagher, McVicar, Boucher, Kerr.
Canadiens—Hainsworth; S. Mantha, Burke, Moore, Laroche, Joliat, Sube; Wasie, Lepine, G. Mantha, McCaffrey, Leduc, Mondou, Gagnon and Rivers.
Referee—Hewison and Goodman.

Summary
First period—1, Canadiens, Mondou, 11:20; 2, Maroons, McVicar (Gallagher), 6:35; 3, Canadiens, Gagnon (Morenz), 35.
Second period—4, Canadiens, Morenz, 1:25; 5, Canadiens, Morenz (Joliat and Laroche), 6:45; 6, Canadiens, Lepine, 5:15.
Third period—Canadiens, Laroche (McCaffrey), 10:10.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The heretofore unscathed state of Detroit's National Hockey League entry had a 1-0 defeat registered upon it when the Falcons invaded the home ice of Ottawa Senators yesterday evening. A goal in the second minute of play from the stick of the Senator centre, Joe Lamb, marked the margin of victory and also the slim edge the home team had on the play.

While the match was ruggedly fought, with both teams applying the body and often concentrating on the opposing man than the puck, early season form was noticeable in the weak attempts at combination play. Goalward rushes were largely restricted to solo attempts, and light defensive walls in front of either goal took care of them.

Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa Will Play In Exhibition

Famous United States Golf Pros Will Oppose Phil Taylor, Oak Bay Pro, and Dave Black, Vancouver, in Eighteen-hole Match at Victoria Golf Club on Wednesday; Sarazen, One of the Greatest Medal Players in World, Won $25,000 Agua Caliente Open; Espinosa Has Fine Record; Match Starts at 1:30 o'clock.

Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa Will Play In Exhibition

Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa, two famous golf professionals, will play in an exhibition match at the Victoria Golf Club next Wednesday afternoon according to an announcement made to-day by Phil Taylor, pro at the local club. Sarazen and Espinosa will engage in an eighteen-hole match with Taylor and Dave Black, pro at the Shaughnessy Heights club, Vancouver, as their opponents. The match will commence at 1:30 o'clock and a large gallery will no doubt follow the players.

Sarazen who hails from New York and Miami, and Espinosa, who calls Chicago his home town, were both members of last year's United States Ryder Cup team and both have occupied the spotlight in pro golf for many years. Sarazen gained added prominence early this year when he carried off the $25,000 Agua Caliente Open, the world's richest golf prize.

Espinosa is well known to many local golfers through his associations as pro at the Inglewood Golf Club, Seattle. All noted in the P.W. Open in 1922 at Colwood and will be long remembered as the first golfer to reach the fifth green in two. This hole is over one hundred yards. Although he has never won any major championship Espinosa has always been among the leaders in the big events and is one of the world's leading pros. He also has the honor of being a member of the hole-in-one club, scoring his dodo in 1928 during the Mid-American open tournament at Chicago.

On Thursday the same four players will engage in an exhibition match at Vancouver. Sarazen and Espinosa are both competing in the $25,000 Oregon Open tournament which got under way at Portland to-day and concludes on Sunday. Tickets for the local exhibition may be secured at either the Victoria Golf Club or the Victoria Sporting Goods Store, 3000 Street.

Will Be Out in Force With New Men on Roster to Meet Wanderers To-morrow

Oarsmen to Play Their First Game at Royal Park; Two Intermediate Matches

With two former Scottish players, one ex-navy man and a star of several University of British Columbia teams recruited to his squad, Bob McInnes will send a fast and husky team against the Oak Bay Wanderers in the oarsmen's first Senior Rugby League fixture of the season at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow.

Art Eggle and Gerry Fanning, two good offensive and defensive men, and "Sailor" Stagg and Sparta, all newcomers to the J.B.A. roster, are expected to add considerable strength to the blue shirts' attack. The Oak Bay boys will, with three exceptions, face the field with virtually the same team as was used against the Scottish last week.

In the opening game the Wanderers showed plenty of fight and gave a good account of themselves until the last quarter of the match. When they clashed with the Bays they should be in better condition than they were for the opener and will doubtless put up a stiff battle. J. B. Acland will referee and the game will start at 3 o'clock.

INTERMEDIATE GAMES
In the intermediate division Victoria College, undefeated leaders, will meet the Oak Bay Wanderers, while the J.B.A. clash with the Scottish. The Collegians will play at Victoria High School, while the other match will be staged at Oak Bay Park.

Sturrock, Thornburn and Harrison will replace three forwards in the Wanderers' senior line-up, while the intermediates will take the field as follows: Campbell, Dickson, Brake, Sharp, Acland, Vaucher, Twigg, Gann, Stewart, Crombie, Pangman, Borman, McConnan, Williams and Cox.

The Canadian, Scottish Intermediates will line up as follows: Lund, Forbes, Hills, Brookbank, Murray, Parker, Halls, Lee, Quinn, Blythe, Rowton, Creeley, Christy, Hesselton and Byrne. Reserves are: Star, Outhwaite and Davis.

FORMER PITCHER DIED
Ely, Nev., Nov. 21.—John "Lefty" Russell, former pitcher for the Brooklyn Robins, died yesterday from a heart attack. He was born in San Mateo, Cal.

Ninety Golf Stars Teed Off To-day In $2,500 Oregon Open

Portland, Ore., Nov. 21.—Ninety golfers, including internationally-known professionals and amateurs, lined up here to-day for the opening of the $2,500 Oregon open. Trophies will be awarded to winning amateurs.

The programme called for eighteen holes to-day and to-morrow and the thirty-six-hole final round Sunday. Low scores on the seventy-two holes will determine the winners.

Horton Smith is here to defend the title which he won last year. Leo Diegel, 1929 champion of the Professional Golfers' Association, and Gene Sarazen, former national champion, are among the contenders. The amateur division is led by Dr. O. F. Willing, Frank Dolp and Eddie Hogan.

New York, Nov. 21.—Although Robert T. Jones, Jr., was not in attendance, his status as a member of the United States Golf Association remained unchanged yesterday at a meeting of this governing group. The brief statement issued on the committee's behalf by Frederick S. Bush, secretary, contained no reference to Jones, nor would any of the committee men answer a question as to whether the world's champion, having renounced his amateur standing for the talking motion pictures, would serve as a member in 1931.

The indications were Jones would fill out his term of office, with the likelihood he would not serve with the new executive committee functioning after the annual meeting, January 9-10, in New York City.

No action was taken in the "sand wedge" the new concave-faced instrument, equipped for the special purpose of getting the ball out of sand traps. Its use has been the subject of some controversy both here and abroad.

Loughran 2 to 1 Favorite to Beat Levinsky To-night

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, former world's light heavyweight champion, was a two-to-one favorite to defeat King Levinsky, the ex-fish peddler, in their ten-round engagement at the Chicago Stadium to-night.

Loughran figures to defeat convincingly the Canadian, who has been beyond any dispute by plastering Levinsky's well-flattened nose with left hand jabs. Levinsky's only chance of winning appears to rest solely on his ability to score a knockout.

Loughran expects to scale around 181 pounds, while the kingfish probably will scale 184.

Manitoba Champion Surprises By Win Over British Star

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Charlie Jones, young champion of Manitoba, yesterday evening sprang an upset when he defeated F. Nichols, English badminton player, in the feature match of a programme in which all the British internationalists took part. Jones, hardly known outside his own province, had been a surprise winner after losing the first game and won by 9-15, 17-15, 17-15.

The Britons were successful in winning other matches before large crowds during both afternoon and evening. H. S. Uber and R. M. White of England defeated the Manitoba doubles championship team of R. L. Campbell and J. W. Moss by 15-4, 15-10.

Hoppe Finally Wins Block In Billiard Match

New York, Nov. 21.—Willie Hoppe finally has won a block in his world's championship 181 ballroom billiards match with Walker Cochran but seems to have little or no chance of retaining his crown. After Cochran had won seven straight blocks, Hoppe broke the string by taking the eighth yesterday evening, 350 to 300, but Cochran leads the champion 2-0 to 4-0.

Cochran's grand average, so far in the match, is 13.2, while Hoppe's is 12.2.

HOOP GAMES AT LAKE HILL

Four Fixtures Scheduled at Suburban Hall This Evening; Expect Keen Competition

Four basketball games are carded at the Lake Hill Community Hall to-night, with two women's games and two men's fixtures scheduled. The Lake Hill "A" women will play the Hudson's Bay five, while the "B" team will tangle with the Empress Hotel Laundry. The men's games will first the "A" and "B" Lake Hill quintettes playing the "A" and "B" squads from Royal Oak.

With the opening of basketball season this year, the hoop pastime has become very popular with residents of the Lake Hill district, and with a fine floor, some good games have been played there this season.

The complete card follows:

Portland Defeats Tacoma In Rough Coast Hockey Tilt

Bobby Rowe's Buckaroos Turn in 3 to 1 Victory in Opening of P.C.H.L. at Rose City; Twenty Penalties, Including Three Majors, Are Handed Out; Fans Show Disapproval of New Rules; Bucks Grab Off Three-goal Lead in First Period; Williamson Scores Lone Goal for Tacoma.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 21.—Portland Buckaroos opened the Pacific Coast Hockey League season locally yesterday evening by defeating Mickey Mackay's Tacoma entry, 3 to 1. It was Tacoma's first appearance in minor league hockey, that city having taken over the old Victoria franchise.

The game was a typical opening struggle, with a lot of close-checking bringing forth twenty penalties in all, including three majors. The new rules, in effect this year, met with disapproval of the fans, the opinion being expressed by many that there were too much whistle blowing.

The Bucks grabbed off three goals in the first period to practically clinch the issue. A fast combination attack by the first string forward line with the first period nearly three-quarters gone, brought about the first score. Downie, Conn and Poole rushed in on the Tacoma defence, and went right through. Downie took the final pass and whipped the rubber past Robertson for the opening tally.

The second was not long in coming. Louis Coupez snatched up a loose puck with but two minutes of the period left, and set sail from centre ice. He twisted through the Tacoma defence and flipped it by Robertson to make the score 2 to 0.

McGOLDRICK SCORES

Joe McGoldrick, veteran defence star of the Portland squad, grabbed off the final score a minute and a half later. He made a solo dash from his own blue line, after breaking up a rush, slipped around one side of the Tigers' defence, and then sent the puck into the net from the side.

Tacoma forced the pace for the remaining two periods, but the Bucks, playing a strong defensive game, held them out of the danger zone for the best part of the time. Andy Aitkenhead, was his usual cool self in goal, and blocked off many a promising Tacoma rush.

The lone Tacoma goal came early in the second period. "Swede" Williamson and Osmundson worked a nice combination play, which caught the Portland defence napping and Williamson pushed the disc past Aitkenhead.

LINE-UPS

Portland — Aitkenhead, Burke, McGoldrick, Conn, Poole, Downie, Sub-Coupez, Teel, Headley, Ralston and Armstrong.

Tacoma — Robertson, Redpath, Kenney, Evans, Williamson, Osmundson, Sub-Cummings, H. Runge, Lowe, Aitken and Archer.

SUMMARY

First period — 1. Portland, Downie, 13:24; 2. Portland, Coupez from Armstrong, 4:20; 3. Portland, McGoldrick, 14:7.

Penalties — Burke, Headley, Armstrong, Kenney.

Second period — 4. Tacoma, Williamson from Osmundson, 2:02.

Penalties — Teel, Conn (2), Conn (5), H. Runge, Evans (5).

Third period — No score.

Penalties — Downie, Coupez, Burke, Teel, Williamson, Osmundson, Lowe (2), Kenney (3).

BRITAIN SENDS COMMISSIONER TO CAPETOWN

Sir Herbert Stanley Appointed to New Post by London Government

London, Nov. 21.—Sir Herbert J. Stanley, long a prominent figure in Britain's colonial administration, has been appointed British High Commissioner in South Africa. The post is comparable with that held in Canada by Sir William Clark.

The office of the Secretary of State for the Dominions yesterday issued the following statement:

"With a view to further development of the system of communication and consultation between His Majesty's Governments, the importance of which was emphasized by the Imperial Conference of 1926, and again at the recent Imperial Conference, His Majesty's Government of the United Kingdom has decided to establish the post of High Commissioner for the United Kingdom in the Union of South Africa."

"It has been decided, with His Majesty's approval, to combine the post with the already existing post of High Commissioner for South Africa, which will be relinquished within the next few months by the Earl of Athlone, the Governor-General."

Sir Herbert Stanley has been Governor of Ceylon since 1927. He was secretary to the Governor-General of the Union from 1910 to 1913, and was later Governor of Northern Rhodesia.

New Brunswick Pastor Called By Emmanuel

Emmanuel Baptist Church has invited Rev. M. L. Richardson, of St. John, New Brunswick, to become pastor of the church in succession to Rev. Henry Knox, who recently resigned. At a meeting of the congregation held Wednesday evening the call was unanimously approved.

Rev. Mr. Richardson is now pastor of the Main Street Baptist Church at St. John. He is outstanding as a preacher and church organizer and is very musical, with a rich baritone voice.

Oriental Influx Into Canada Is Address Topic

S. D. Carey of the Maple Leaf Association, yesterday evening addressed the Victoria Assembly, Native Sons of Canada, describing the association's endeavors to fight the Oriental menace. Figures showing the continued influx of Chinese and Japanese to Canada were given by the speaker, who referred to the failure of Orientals to obey laws which governed Canadians. In connection with the subject, the attitude of the South Africa, Australia and the United States are stressed particularly.

Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., the president, presided over the meeting, at which the annual roll call was held. Matters regarding civic improvement were referred to the executive, preparatory to recommendations to the City Council being drafted.

VOTE UPHOLDS MINISTRY

Dublin, Irish Free State, Nov. 21.—The Free State Government won by 74 votes to 61 yesterday evening on a tariff motion which involved its safety and at one time threatened defeat.

Veterans Hear Addresses On Legislation

Legislation affecting war veterans was discussed by speakers at the meeting of the Amputations' Association of the Great War held yesterday evening in the clubrooms, Surrey Block. Capt. E. A. Baker of Toronto, explained the War Veterans' Allowance Act and its operation under the war veterans' allowance committee, paying a compliment to the committee for the manner in which the act was handled.

Richard Myers of Toronto, a member of the Dominion Command of the association, discussed amendments to the Pensions Act resulting from an interview of ex-service men with the Parliamentary committee.

J. Curran, vice-president of the Dominion Command and president of the Vancouver branch, attended and extended greetings from the mainland unit.

Arnold Palmer, president of the branch, presided.

Mr. Myers later addressed the Army and Navy Veterans, Victoria Unit No. 12, on the subject of Pensions Act amendments.

Dates were set by the A. and N. Veterans for the annual banquet on December 16, and the annual Christmas tree party on December 30.

TURKS' CLAIMS AGAINST BRITAIN WILL BE HEARD

Istanbul, Turkey, Nov. 21.—Trial of a $80,000,000 suit will open before a Turkish tribunal in Istanbul tomorrow when thirty-seven descendants of Abdul Hamid, one of the last of the Turkish Sultans, will attempt to secure from Great Britain compensation for property of the Sultans in Iraq and Palestine, confiscated by the British Government. The property listed in the suit includes important holdings in Bagdad and in the rich oil fields of Mosul.

A similar claim against the French for Syrian property was rejected by the Turco-French tribunal on the ground that the Turkish Government denied the citizenship of the Ottoman royalty, but since the Turkish government subsequently granted citizenship to the Sultan's widow the status of the present case apparently has been changed.

Two elderly widows of Abdul Hamid and the youngest wife of the last Sultan, Validehine—who was a palace eunuch's daughter, were admitted to Turkey in 1926.

LUIS IS EXILED

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 21.—Former President Washington Luis, the first chief executive ever to be deposed in the history of this republic, left Rio de Janeiro yesterday aboard the steamship Alcantara for Lisbon, going into exile.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

DAILY HEALTH SERVICE
Sugar Plays Big Part In Giving Baby Energy
By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Many forms of sugar are used in the feeding of infants, including milk sugar, cane sugar, maltose, dextrose and starch.
Milk sugar, which is the sugar that occurs naturally in mother's milk, in the milk of the cow and in that of the goat, has few advantages over other sugars. Milk sugar is not as sweet as cane sugar, which may be an advantage, since the infant does not become used to sweetness.
More than other sugars, the milk sugar tends to produce acidity in the excretions and with the possibility of irritation of the skin. In most babies, milk sugar seems to be more laxative than other sugars.
Cane sugar, which is the ordinary sugar used on the table by the rest of the family, has the same value in nutrition as does milk sugar. It is somewhat more quickly digested, but it is not as laxative and may be fed with safety in larger amounts, particularly to infants that have digestive disturbances. It is, as has been mentioned, somewhat sweeter than the milk sugar.
Many of the infant foods contain maltose and dextrose because of special qualities which these sugars are believed to possess. Dextrin is not fermented by most of the bacteria found in the intestine, but it is converted to maltose by the ferments that are normally present in the intestine. In infants that have diarrhea, it is customary to use dextrin because it is not likely to lead to fermentation. Dextrose can be given in larger amounts than other sugars and is, therefore, widely used in infant feeding. Mixtures of maltose and dextrose vary from 30 per cent maltose and 70 per cent dextrin to 60 per cent maltose and 40 per cent dextrin. Maltose is quickly converted in the intestine into the sugar known as dextrose or glucose, in which form it is rapidly absorbed; in fact, dextrose is the most quickly absorbed of all sugars.
Because of its quick absorption and the fact that fairly large amounts may be added to the food of the infant without danger of fermentation, mixtures of maltose, dextrose and dextrin are commonly used in infant foods.
There are, of course, many other forms of sugar that can be supplied to the infant in order to provide them with energy. All of the fruits contain sugars, chiefly dextrose, but this does not possess any special advantage over other forms of sugar. Whenever an excessive amount of sugar is fed to an infant, fermentation, with the formation of gas, takes place and the infant is likely to develop diarrhea.

Ford Windshield Resists Blow of Iron Horseshoe

A HORSESHOE may be lucky for some people, but for Mrs. E. Holtman, of St. Louis, Mo., it might have been very unlucky had it not been for the shattering glass in the windshield of her Ford sedan. Mrs. Holtman was driving along a concrete suburban highway when suddenly the horseshoe struck the windshield and lodged snugly in the shattering glass. It was a lucky break for Mrs. Holtman and the two adults and three children who accompanied her, for not one of them was hurt. The car continued for 165 miles with the proverbial lucky shoe still embedded in the windshield.

NEW AID FOR PLAINS FARMERS IS DISCUSSED
Toronto, Nov. 21.—A special dispatch from Ottawa published in The Toronto Globe this morning said:
"A partial solution of the difficult problem of tiding over the wheat farming population of the prairies appears to be at hand. One proposal which is being considered is an enlargement of operations of the Farm Loan Board to include all those who are in desperate need of immediate assistance. The Farm Loan Board has been operating in British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, but not in Saskatchewan and Ontario, where there are provincial boards operating in the same capacity as the federal board.
The extension of the operations of the Farm Loan Board which is under consideration is to empower the board, if deemed necessary, to take over all mortgages from the loan companies. These are usually given from five to seven years, and at a higher interest than the government charges.
"The Farm Loan Board could convert them into long-term mortgages and thus relieve the situation very much."

Sez Hugh:
FALL WHEAT AREA CUT IN CANADA
Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The area sown to fall wheat in Canada for the season 1931, as of October 31, 1930, is estimated at 894,000 acres in a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This represents a decrease of 148,000 acres when compared with the total of 1,042,000 acres sown last year.
The condition of fall wheat on October 31, is reported as 96 per cent. of the ten-year average, against 88 per cent. on the same date in 1929.

STOP CATCHING COLD
People in Britain avoid catching cold despite the climate. How? Many use "Nostoline." You should, too. "Nostoline" is made in England and is a pure, natural remedy. It will clear the head and stop the nasal congestion. Soothing and pleasant. QUICKLY CONSUMES COUGH AND COLD. YOUR NOSE NEEDS "NOSTOLINE."

YOU CAN TELL A SHEPHERD BY HIS CROOK!

Bobby Jones On Golf

Recently I played golf with three friends all of whom are deserving of higher rank than that of "average golfer." Strictly speaking the average golfer is he who plays a game approximating the average score of all who play golf, and if this were accurately calculated, I am sure the mathematician would arrive at a figure close to the century mark—certainly above ninety-five. Of these three men on this particular day, one broke eighty and the other two holed out with scores in the middle eighties, and this on a course 6,000 yards in length. They all have a fairly clear idea of the correct way to hit a golf ball yet all three are just far enough away from a sound method to make it impossible for them to play really good golf.

When a man does everything wrong it is almost impossible for the observer to recognize any one or two faults, but when his swing is almost a good one, it is not hard to find a thing or two which might be corrected. I was much interested this afternoon in observing the methods of these three men; one sliced almost every shot, even his good ones, and other hooked consistently, and other, although he had no definite tendency, was as likely to be off line on one side as the other. Watching them must closely I could see, or at least thought I could see, what caused the trouble each was having.

DID WRONG THINGS
The slicer sliced because he did these things wrong. He started the club back entirely with his arms, and after it had completed only a foot or two of its backward travel, his right hand broke abruptly straight upward. This carried his club to the shoulder, the objective of the stroke, this fault being accentuated because the player had permitted only a slight body turn during the backstroke. Whatever resolution to the contrary he may have made as he addressed the ball, the right hand was in control from the point where the club began its rise toward the shoulder. From this position it is determined that the club must come upon the ball from outside the line of flight, and a massive re-quit unless the player succeeds in closing the face of the club in time to pull the shot far to the left.

A FEW MECHANICAL ERRORS
The fellow who did the hooking got times in trouble because he started, to begin with, made small use of his body in taking the club back, but instead of lifting the implement he turned it rapidly around his body. When he reached the top, his club was pointing to the right of the objective, as it should have been, but the face was hooded, a fact revealed by the top of the club pointing to the word the front rather than to the ground. Not having a correct turn of the hips, the player then was forced to whip the club through his arms and wrists and not unreasonably it was the right which was most of the whipping. The turn was nearly always too fast and a hook resulted.

The third member, who showed no great partiality to either hook or slice, erred as the second man had done, except that on the occasions when he produced a slice it was caused by a perceptible softening as he neared the ball. This was itself very likely produced by the consciousness that if he failed to make the ball bring off another hook.

The one thing of importance which I noted as common to all three was that the body turn always lagged behind the club as the backing got under way. It seemed to be the intent of each to swing the club as fast as possible, and the body was permitted to move only as the progress of the armwing made the motion necessary. The whole thing appeared strained and cramped and lacking in the easy rhythm which characterizes the swing of a first class professional. I like to see a man swing the club really, not lift it or drag it, and can only swing it if he is relaxed about his waistline. I can think of no better way to make a start than by "taking off" from the left foot, by rolling the weight toward the inside of that foot. If one will watch closely the best pros he will observe that the hips appear to originate the first motion of the backswing, or if he does not observe this with satisfactory clearness he will at least see that they do not lag behind the club.

PROPER ARC
A full and proper body turn does more than add length and power to the stroke; it induces the club to come around in the proper arc and enables the player to bring himself into position behind the ball whence he can hit rather than over it whence he cannot. I realize that it is a difficult thing to master, particularly for the man who has begun to play the game rather late in life when his waistline may not be as slim and supple as it used to be. But there is no way to avoid the sad truth that the proper use of the hips is one of the most important things in the game.

LEAVE DON JAIL
Toronto, Nov. 21.—It was early morning when Sheriff Officers Arthur Severs and Loudon appeared at the Don Jail, and five minutes later, papers in order, they reappeared accompanied by Heppleston and Shutt, handcuffed together. With heads erect, they descended the steps and entered the rear seat of the waiting car.

The trip to the depot was without incident. Through the downtown streets the big machine wended its way unnoticed, and even at the Union Depot not a soul suspected that the two well-dressed young men who alighted were anything but two of the carefree crowd on the way to the train.

Inside the station their close proximity prevented any notice being taken of the party and even the gateman was puzzled, until Arthur Severs, in a word, explained their presence at that particular gateway. A moment later the party were standing on the platform awaiting the arrival of the train and even there no one noticed them.

LOOK AT PRICES
When Severs and Shutt were promptly whisked aboard and entered the smoker, where handcuffs were removed to permit the removal of overcoats, papers had been purchased and both prisoners at once sought the financial page. Still no one could have suspected that the party were other than friends.

In sharp contrast was the arrival of a second party on a similar purpose who entered the same car and smoker almost immediately after Heppleston and Shutt. Handcuffed and fastened by a lead to Deputy Sheriff "Dave" Shewan of Guelph, were William Cann and Percy Rowan, who escaped from Guelph on October 7 and were recaptured in Winnipeg. Both prisoners ostentatiously displayed their manacles and took no precautions to appear other than what they were. Heppleston and Shutt nodded pleasantly to newspapermen.

"I haven't a word to say, old man," said Heppleston. When train time came both warmly shook hands, then turned with renewed interest to their papers still open at the financial page.

NEW B.C. COMPANIES Get Incorporation
New B.C. companies granted incorporation at the Parliament Buildings this week are:
The Aladdin, Limited, Oriental goods importer, $75,000, 608 Central Building, Victoria.
Consumers' Co-operative Association, under the Co-operative Associations Act, with offices at Webster's Corner, Discovery Passage Logging Company, Limited, $50,000, Vancouver.
Harris Stojice Motor Freight, Limited, $50,000, Port Haney.
Janssen Distributors, Limited, $10,000, Port Haney.
Melrose Cafe, Limited $10,000, Vancouver.
Ross Wightman, Limited, $50,000, Vancouver.
St. George's School, Limited, $30,000, Vancouver.
Sterling Markets, Limited, $50,000, Vancouver.
Vancouver Barge Transportation, Limited, $100,000, Vancouver.
Paristyle Novelty Company, Limited, of Winnipeg, and now in Victoria, is registered as an extraprovincial company.

SARDONIC JEST
True, they laughed little on the long train journey to Kingston but neither did their faces reveal despair. Here were two men who could keep a stiff upper lip.
Even one or two sardonic jests they found possible. Shutt grinned at Heppleston and he held up a page of a morning paper revealing the top line of an advertisement, "Christmas will be different for you too, you do it."

In the smoking compartment of the train the seat behind was occupied by the Guelph sheriff and two policemen. They were solemnly reading the paper. One of them was flipping, jesting roughly about his escapades. Shutt and Heppleston just nodded when they learned that the conversation they overheard came from the mouths of their future prison mates.

There were solemn moments too. One particularly when Shutt pulled a Masonic ring from his finger and gave it to a friend who had joined them on the train "Give it to my wife," he said.

NO STATEMENTS
The friend, Fred Pentland, was allowed to sit with the two brokers and throughout the journey the three had their heads together in close conversation.
But both prisoners refused conversation with newspapermen. Politely, cheerfully, they declared they had nothing to say. They read with interest a Toronto newspaper editorial about the disparity of their sentences and that of Solloway and Mills. But they made no comment.

"Is there any statement you would like to make?" Shutt was asked.
"Nothing at all, thanks," he replied.
Both men were dressed immaculately. The clothes which soon were to be replaced with prison garb were well pressed. They were shaved and brushed. Shutt's mustache was neatly clipped and he even gave several moments' attention to his finger nails.

In the seat behind, two other men bound for the same "house" were unshaven, untidy, careless.
At Kingston a big car waited at the station and soon the two had started on the last stage of their journey. As the car wound through Kingston's streets it might have been any motor trip. But outside the city as the auto swept over the crest of hill the panorama of the big prison spread before them. Their lips tightened. But they said nothing. The gates swung open and slammed shut. The brokers were ushered into the registration office, names recorded, measured, weighed, then off for a bath, new clothes, a close hair cut, and then . . . days, months, years.

GETTING A WILD OIL WELL INTO HARNESS
After days and nights of desperate work, during which time Oklahoma City was threatened by the danger of a widespread conflagration, workers finally got a wild "gusher" oil well that had imperiled the city under control. The photo above shows workers toiling on the platform of the well, sinking the iron cap that eventually checked the roaring flow of crude oil. At the right is a view of the well with its 300-foot plume of oil that sprayed the entire neighborhood.

BROKERS JEST ON TRAIN TO PENITENTIARY
No Bitterness or Despair Shown as Great Prison Doors Close on Them

Kingston, Nov. 21.—Portsmouth's big doors closed behind the first two of eight brokers sentenced to penitentiary terms, when James Heppleston and William Trevor Shutt, ex-executors of the Moysey stock brokerage firm, entered the grim portals.

For three years and for two and a half years respectively these men who have lived in luxury, who have wielded huge power, who have enjoyed the fruits of tremendous financial success, will know the simple fare and routine of prison life.

They entered realizing the possibility that the remaining six who have filed appeals may gain their freedom. But they were not bitter. They held no grudge.

CHAIN STORE SALES 25 P.C. OF TOTAL
Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Only 25 per cent. of the nation's selling is done through chain stores, according to a computation by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The bureau estimates that total retail sales last year in Canada amounted to approximately $2,000,000,000, of which $400,000,000 worth was made by the chain stores.

Total sales for the 210 chain systems in 1929 amounted to $256,129,974, or equivalent to $600 per store, or $26 per capita for the population of Canada. Ontario led in sales, the chain stores selling $137,662,696 worth of commodities there. Other provinces follow:

Quebec, $56,489,703, or 22 per cent.; British Columbia, $17,321,927, or 6.8 per cent.; Manitoba, $11,877,076, or 4.5 per cent.; Saskatchewan, $11,666,562, or 4.5 per cent.; Alberta, $10,864,704, or 4.3 per cent.; Nova Scotia, and P.E.I., $5,608,301, or 2.3 per cent.; and New Brunswick, $4,819,135, or 1.9 per cent.

TWO NATIONS HOLD 60 P.C. OF GOLD
Washington, Nov. 21.—Sixty per cent. of the world's gold lies in the coffers of two nations, the United States and France.

Never since the Great War have any two countries held such a stupendous share of the world's wealth. The Federal Reserve Board set the United States holdings of November 1 at $4,530,000,000. They have grown $60,000,000 in ten months of this year.

France, said the board, has been the globe's principal taker of gold since 1927, when it stabilized the franc. The republic's holdings now are $1,999,000,000.

LIQUOR BARGES HELD
Boston, Nov. 21.—The ocean-going tug Morell, out of New York, and two liquor-laden barges rode at anchor off quarantine to-day in the lee of a coastguard patrol boat's one-pounder, waiting to be brought up the harbor for examination. The patrol boat Jackson brought her charges into quarantine shortly before midnight and very little was known to-day of the circumstances surrounding the capture.

STOMACH CRAMPS
Famous Remedy Quickly Relieved Constant Indigestion

It's simply marvelous how quickly cramps and heaviness in the stomach, indigestion and gas disappear when Tanlac is taken. Mr. Alex. Krenbrenk of Claret, Sask., knows this from personal experience.

"For the past year," he writes, "constant indigestion and cramps just about doubled me up. I lost weight; my nerves were all on edge; I felt tired all the time and could not work. One of my friends told me to try Tanlac, and now after the third bottle, I feel my old healthy, vigorous self again. I digest my meals without any trace of indigestion; the heavy lump and cramps are gone for good; and I feel fine." Tanlac is Nature's roots, bark and herbs, blended in a big, bracing tonic that costs less than 3c a dose. Get a bottle to-day at your druggist's—your money back if it does not give complete satisfaction.

UNIVERSITY OF COLUMBIA HAS 50,000 ON ROLL

$7,000,000 Above All Fees of Students Spent Annually Through Endowments

Professor J. C. Reid, Educational Adviser at Columbia, Visiting City

Professor J. Calvin Reid, educational adviser on the staff of Columbia University, is at the Dominion Hotel to-day on a periodical visit to the Coast in connection with home study courses. He is meeting university members with a view to co-operating in the arrangement of home study courses and also with business firms and individuals to aid them in solving their educational problems.

Columbia University, said Professor Reid this morning, has 50,000 students on the rolls, of whom 37,000 study in campus, 10,000 are enrolled for home study and 3,000 miscellaneous. There are over 3,000 professors on the university staff and 3,500 courses available for intensive study. Three hundred courses are offered for home study. Columbia University has enormous resources and most of its work is carried out here, enumerated. The sum of $7,000,000 annually, over and above all fees of students, is expended by Columbia University, largely out of endowments, stated Professor Reid.

Prof. Reid is a Canadian and is a graduate of Toronto University.

B.C. APPLES WIN AT BIG TORONTO FAIR

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Under a brilliantly decorated booth of black and white, British Columbia has at the Royal Winter Fair demonstrated its merit in the art of apple growing. Around the display of the Associated Growers of British Columbia there is a border of differently colored ribbons significant of British Columbia's victories over the other provinces in the production of apples. Aside from the ribbons, there are numerous cups, gold and silver, and even more gold medals. Even though Ontario was the sweepstakes for the best single box of apples, British Columbia made a clean sweep in all other classes entered. Even in the Royal Winter Fair, a close second with the exception of the single box. It did, however, with its two entries in the five-box and ten-box class, capture second and third place in both instances.

British Columbia's sweeping victories in the other branches, with two entries in each class, were:

EQUIPMENT OF ARMY LOANED TO THE NEEDY

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Co-operation in rendering assistance to the destitute is being extended by the Department of National Defence in a widening of the agreement between the department and the Red Cross Society, the effect of which is to place articles of military equipment such as blankets at the disposal of the society for the temporary use of those in need of them.

For some time past the department has been despatching requests from well-meaning charitable organizations appealing for the loan of such articles in order that they might be issued to distressed families.

Varsity Athletes Will Not Make Local "Invasion"

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—For the first time in many years the athletic teams of the University of British Columbia will not visit Victoria during the coming Christmas vacation on the annual "invasion," according to a decision of the students' council.

It has been the custom to send representatives of every sport that is sanctioned by the student athletic societies to compete against the teams of Victoria College in the Island City at New Year's. This season, however, no official visit will be made, although one or two of the first string teams may make the trip, playing exhibition games.

Squatters Must Leave Island As Park Work Starts

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—Between thirty-five and forty squatters on Park Island, formerly known as Beasdale Island, were notified by the city to-day they must abandon their premises to make way for park development.

The lease of the island, granted Vancouver by the Federal Government, makes it plain the land must be used for park purposes, officials of the legal department state.

Most of the inhabitants are said to have resided there with their families since before the break of the twentieth century.

Police Chief Is Injured But Saves Dog's Life

Because he averted his car and stopped suddenly to save the life of a little dog which darted out from the side of the road yesterday evening, Chief Allan Rankin of the Saanich Police force is confined to his home to-day with a bruised forehead and other minor bruises.

The car swung round and crashed into a tree and the Chief was thrown against the wheel, sustaining injuries. The dog escaped.

CIVIL ENGINEER DIES AT BANFF

Late Bateman Hutchinson Was in Practice Here From 1907 Till 1927

Bateman Hutchinson, C.E., B.C.L.S., former Victoria land surveyor and civil engineer, passed away suddenly in Banff, on November 14, of peritonitis, according to word just received in the city.

BIG CAMPAIGN FOR ECONOMY IN GERMANY

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The German Government, which has notified the world it may be compelled to invoke measures of safeguard provided for in the Young Plan, turned its attention to-day to a Germany-wide campaign for economy.

While front pages of newspapers were filled with stories and comment of yesterday's speech of Dr. Julius Curtius, Foreign Minister, intimating the possibility of a moratorium on the convening of a special advisory committee, Chancellor Bruening took up the economic battle on the home front.

In order to meet the dire need of economy might penetrate to the most remote corners of the Reich, Chancellor Bruening addressed a delegation from rural communities meeting here to-day.

MRS. J. W. FRAME OF CUMBERLAND INJURED BY CAR

Special to The Times

Courtenay, Nov. 21.—Mrs. J. W. Frame of Cumberland, was run down and injured by a car driven by Sabula Nakamura last evening at the intersection of Dunsmuir Avenue and Second Street, near the Post Office.

Cheaper Bread In Winnipeg, But Not In Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—Notwithstanding reports that bakers of Winnipeg have reduced the price of the sixteen-cup loaf of bread to six cents, one cent less than the former price, officials of the Master Bakers' Association of Greater Vancouver to-day stated their organization contemplated no price change at the present time.

The prevailing price of the sixteen-cup loaf in Vancouver is seven and one-half cents.

The Master Bakers' Association has been asked to consider a reduction in price, but the association has declined to do so.

The W.A. of the Victoria Boys' Band will hold a white drive at 8 o'clock, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

INCREASE IN ASSESSMENTS IS $2,300,000

Lands Jump $137,424 and Improvements $2,194,400, Figures Show

Net Taxable Sum for 1931 Will Be $59,130,004, Assessor Reports

An increase of $137,424 in the taxable assessment on lands and of $2,194,400 on improvements for 1931 is reported by George Okell, city assessment commissioner, following completion of the assessment roll yesterday afternoon.

The city's next taxable assessment next year will total $59,130,004, which is an increase of $2,331,824 over this year. This includes both lands and improvements, less all exemptions. This year the net assessment was $56,798,180.

The gross assessment totals $79,784,174 and exemptions amount to $20,664,170, both figures being larger than in 1930. The gross for this year was $77,426,380, and the exemptions $20,530,200.

Based on the present mill rate of 40.5 the increased assessment would bring the city an additional $30,000, only fifty per cent of improvements being taxable.

The increase on land assessment is only $137,424, the figure for 1931 being $25,999,094, as compared with $25,261,670 for this year. Improvements are assessed at $33,730,910, as against $31,536,510 in 1930, or an advance of $2,194,400.

Land exemptions have increased from $6,455,200 this year to $6,530,770 in 1931, while exemptions on improvements have been augmented from $14,075,000 to $14,124,000.

Presbyterians To Hear Moderator Of General Assembly

All Presbyterians, whether resident or only visiting in the city, are invited to attend the reception to be tendered this evening to Rev. Dr. Frank Baird of Picton, Nova Scotia, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. This reception will be held in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Church at 8 o'clock, and is being organized by the Session and Women's Guild of St. Andrew's.

WOMAN CHEATS DEATH AS CAR LEAVES BRIDGE

New Westminster, Nov. 21.—Mrs. C. Head of Port Coquitlam, is in the Royal Columbian Hospital here with a badly cut hand and head injuries sustained when she had a miraculous escape from death Wednesday evening in the Brunette River.

Driving over the north road between Port Coquitlam and New Westminster at a school, Mrs. Head's car got out of control on the approach to the bridge over the Brunette River. It struck a post, tore out the railings and somersaulted into the stream, six feet below, where it lay with its four wheels in the air.

Mrs. Head broke a window with her hand got out of the automobile, which lay in three feet of water, and made her way to shore.

STOBIE-FORLONG CREDITORS TO GET PART PAYMENT

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Liquidators of the bankrupt firm of Stobie, Forlong and Company, stock brokers, were authorized to make an initial payment of twenty-five cents on the dollar to creditors of the company, according to a judgment of Mr. Justice Boyer in the practice court here to-day.

The judgment applies only to the company's creditors in the province of Quebec or to others who transacted business through the firm's offices in this province.

MRS. J. W. FRAME OF CUMBERLAND INJURED BY CAR

Special to The Times

Courtenay, Nov. 21.—Mrs. J. W. Frame of Cumberland, was run down and injured by a car driven by Sabula Nakamura last evening at the intersection of Dunsmuir Avenue and Second Street, near the Post Office.

Mrs. Frame was crossing the street in company with E. W. Bickle when the accident occurred. She fell striking her head against the cement pavement, suffering what is feared to be a fracture of the skull. Mr. Bickle also was knocked down, but was not injured.

Reports from the hospital to-day said the injured woman was resting easier and it is believed that her injuries may not be as serious as at first feared.

FOR COOKING

The value of Bovril in cooking is very great. A little added to soups and gravies puts real Beef strength into them; not merely coloring.

When cold meats have to be hashed or warmed up a little Bovril makes a truly wonderful difference and puts life into them.

Just put a little Bovril into the next lot of soup you make, or pep up the next lot of gravy with Bovril and you will never again be without it.

FREE PORT AT CHURCHILL IS ADVOCATED

Portage la Prairie, Man., Nov. 21.—Farmers of Manitoba turned toward the northern harbor of Churchill yesterday in their quest for agrarian relief. At the annual convention of the United Farmers' resolutions were approved seeking to have Churchill declared a free port of entry for British and Irish goods and urging every effort to make the Hudson Bay route successful as an outlet for products of the prairies.

Approval of the Churchill resolutions followed a comparison of freight rate structures on Western exports by George H. Smith, traffic manager and freight rates expert of the Saskatchewan Government.

To improve economic welfare and to increase purchasing power in the west, application of the Crows Nest rates over the Hudson Bay Railway to Churchill was essential, Mr. Smith asserted.

Reductions of as much as fifty per cent were assured by Mr. Smith in quoting rates from Swan River, 333 miles northwest of Winnipeg to Churchill, as compared with rates to Montreal.

Langford

Mrs. L. G. Wilkinson and Mrs. William Bartle were supper hostesses at the card party held on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Langford Women's Institute. Progressive bridge was enjoyed, Mrs. Widdup and A. B. Cuthbertson winning the prizes for the highest scores, while consolation prizes were won by Mrs. H. G. Baynes and J. E. Macdonald. The directors decided to hold the postponed character card party on Wednesday, December 2 in the Women's Institute Hall.

The North Saanich Badminton Club and the Crusaders badminton team will play a match this evening at Langford Lakeside in the second division of the Lower Island Badminton League.

Nanaimo

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, Nov. 21.—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion held a very successful poppy tea at the home of Mrs. W. W. Lewis, Newcastle Townsite, Tuesday afternoon. The reception room was suitably decorated for the occasion and dainty refreshments were served during the tea hour to the guests. There was a splendid musical programme convened by Mrs. R. T. Wilson. Several well-known artists taking part. Several drawings were held and with the home-cooking stall and candy stall a substantial sum was realized.

Mrs. Reynolds of Kelowna is the house guest of Mrs. Ernest F. Levesque, Millstream Road.
V. B. Harrison, president over the meeting of the Nanaimo branch, Canadian Red Cross Society. It was decided to hold a masquerade ball in the Odd Fellows' Hall in December. Dr. Hall and Mrs. J. Galbraith will act as judges and cash prizes will be awarded. Mrs. T. Coldcutt, Mrs. Stillwell and Miss L. Caldwell were admitted members. A whist-competition held after the meeting and refreshments were served by the committee.

Strawberry Vale

A pleasant evening was spent at the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute card party, held in the Institute Hall, Wilkinson Road, on Tuesday evening. The prize winners were: First lady, Mrs. DeRusse; second lady, Mrs. Peters; first gentleman, Mr. Booth; second, Mr. Huntington; consolation, Mrs. Austin and Mr. Francis. Mrs. Austin and Mrs. Humphries were tea hostesses. Mrs. Austin convened the party.

Weak, Nervous "Fagged-Out" Women

Will Find Helpful Advice In This Letter

Overworked, rundown, "fagged-out" women who feel as though they could hardly drag about should profit by this grateful woman's experience. She says, "A few months ago I was completely run-down, nervous, 'fagged-out,' and suffered from indigestion. Then, one of my friends urged me to try Double Strength Erbae, and it certainly has done me great good! The tired, worn-out feeling is all gone, and I am strong, vigorous and well. My stomach trouble soon disappeared and now I eat heartily and have perfect digestion. I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman in the world would try Erbae at once—I have never used a medicine that did me so much good."

Thousands of women and men who were formerly weak and sickly owe their present roused health and vitality, energy, ambition and nerve force to the amazing restorative power of Double Strength Erbae—which can now be had from any good druggist on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money back in first box purchased.

Home use—Double Strength Erbae—comes in sealed packets, containing 10 day supply of guaranteed treatment. If you need a medicine of this kind—try it to-day at manufacturer's risk.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Wheat: Strength in Liverpool and Buenos Aires markets were the main features to the wheat market to-day and Winnipeg prices advanced 1 1/2 c over the previous close. There appeared to be a good absorption of wheat, with the Pool selling on the scale upward, but offerings were light from other sources. Chicago and New York being moderate buyers at intervals, locals were buying based on the strength in outside markets. Export business overnight was distinctly small and disappointing, although a little business was worked yesterday afternoon. Liverpool closed 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher and Buenos Aires was 1 1/2 higher at midday. Evidently some notice is being taken of the rust damage report from Argentina. Chicago advanced from 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 cents, with the farm board again supporting the market after admitting that it had purchased 110,000 bushels of wheat. It is likely they will hold this wheat off the market unless prices advance materially. There was a fair demand for cash wheat with offerings light, and spreads were about unchanged. Locals were some grades. Millers report a little new business drifting in from time to time and keeping the mills running at most full time. Country marketings in western Canada on Thursday were 1,540,000 bushels as against 763,000 a year ago.

World shipments exclusive of North America this week are 372,000 bushels, while the British Empire estimates North American clearances at 832,000 bushels. There were no political developments to-day. Winnipeg futures closed one cent to 1 1/2 higher. Coarse grains: These markets followed the trend of wheat and were firm throughout. Outside of a little business in the fodder grains to eastern Canada, there was very little if anything doing in the cash grain markets. There was no export business or inquiry confirmed. Flax: Dull and featureless, but no pressure. Deferred months firm. Closing prices 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher. Liverpool due 1/4 lower based on Winnipeg.

WHITNEY LETTER

New York, Nov. 21.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says:

INTERMEDIATE SETBACK

"I believe that yesterday's closing hour setback simply represents the decision of a bear group to test out the market and that, they having done so, we have been afforded the opportunity of finding out that it is capable of taking such selling without anything being damaged."

"Likewise consider that the whole thing simply comes under the heading of the normal half setback which is thoroughly to be expected to follow any such striking exhibition of strength as we have seen in the last two days, especially when we are in an area which still represents the bottom of a fourteen-month bear market."

"Persistent and annoying bank failures, even though they are confined to relatively unimportant districts, are always about the hardest type of news to bear, and the very presence of this and other forms of 'overhang' news provide the reason why you cannot expect too much on the upside at any one time, when the main task of the market still is to absorb the elements of liquidation which are only a few weeks removed from the violent stage."

"Nevertheless, I believe that the current market position can be interpreted in the light of having shown us a firmly established bottom and secondary movement thereto, with the first portion of the emergence from the bottom already registered. Yesterday's closing setback, and what little carryover from it there is to-day's session should be replaced before the day is very old, with a revival of the advance, with this in turn thoroughly capable of carrying the Dow Jones industrials averages up pretty close to the 200 level, some ten or more points beyond last night's close. When we have arrived at that level we will undoubtedly have to consider the possibility of something more than a one-day setback, as this much advance is about all the market is entitled to on the purely technical grounds which admittedly provide, in the absence of supporting business fundamentals, the sole basis of advance at the moment."

"In the meanwhile, however, this still entails some additional ground to be covered so that the day-to-day outlook warrants maintaining long positions."

COMMENT
"Advancing adding to the stocks mentioned yesterday Borden and Corn Products in the food groups, as well as U.S. Pipe and Foundry. If the tape is any guide, believe you should strictly avoid the short side of Case Threshing, Westinghouse Electric and Vanadium."

RETAIL TRADE DOWN COAST FARES BETTER

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Retail trade in California on the Pacific Coast has fared better than in the country as a whole, judging by department store sales, according to the November number of The Business Outlook issued by the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company.

The citrus crop for the fiscal year ended November 1 produced a record income return to California citrus growers. A substantial increase in sales for the 1929-30 crop over the previous one is indicated in current estimates. Livestock is in excellent condition and pasturage has improved due to satisfactory seasonal rains.

LIFE INSURANCE AT RECORD

"Life insurance sales in California during the first nine months of 1930, The Business Outlook declares, "increased eight per cent over the record-breaking same period last year. Wholesale business during September made the usual seasonal increase over August, but compared with September, 1929, was still about 15 per cent smaller in value; particularly large declines in agricultural implements and automobile supplies."

While retail sales in the first ten months of this year in California were 4.9 per cent below last year, and in October 7.7 per cent below October, 1929, department store sales for the nation dropped 7 per cent for the year to date, and 8 per cent in October.

ORANGE CROP SMALLER

Commenting on the citrus fruit crop, the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Co. states: "Exceptionally good prices for a smaller-than-usual orange crop and an average lemon crop during the 1929-30 season, ended November 1, resulted in the record return to California citrus growers of $135,000,000. This was $16,000,000 greater than in 1928-29 when orange prices were depressed by tremendous yields of small-sized fruit, and $5,000,000 greater than the previous high record of 1927-28."

"Prospects for 1930-31 are for considerable increases over 1929 in the size of the crops, of about 40 per cent for oranges and about 10 per cent for lemons. Both crops are in excellent condition on November 1, according to the report of the state agricultural statistician."

Improvement in the petroleum industry through further substantial reductions in storage stocks of crude and refined oils in California, to a point where they are no greater than they were at this time last year, is reviewed by The Business Outlook.

"Gasoline storage on October 1 totaled 15,906,443 barrels, a reduction of 353,332 barrels from the month previous, and of 2,849,176 from the March 1 peak, the bank declares. "Storage of oil on November 1 totaled 180,433,953 barrels, a reduction of 789,838 from the month previous and of 9,564,771 from the March 1 peak. This reduction, effected in only seven months, offsets nearly one-fifth of the 50,000,000-barrel increase in storage stocks which occurred through 1929 and the first two months of this year."

"The relative success of the present curtailment programme is indicated by the fact that during the whole of 1929 after a year of flood production, a similar attempt at restriction caused a decrease of only 1,800,000 barrels, or 19 per cent of the 1930 decrease. Crude oil production in the last two months has been running about 500,000 barrels daily, against 870,000 a year ago."

LEADS FRUIT TRADE

According to a recent study made by the Bureau of Railway Economics of shipments to sixty principal markets during 1929, California leads all states by a wide margin as the source of fresh fruits and vegetables. Discussing this factor, the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Co. says:

"During the year 615,387 carloads of these products were unloaded by the railroads at these points, of which California supplied 192,886 cars, or 31 per cent of the total. Florida was second, accounting for 74,426 cars, Maine third, with 32,045."

"Following in fourth to tenth places were New York, 31,954; Virginia, 28,984; Washington, 28,276; Texas, 21,931; Georgia, 19,159; Idaho, 18,066 and Colorado, 15,467."

"Out of the eighteen products covered by the study, California was the chief supply source of six of them. These were practically all lemons unloaded in the six principal markets, 92 per cent of all the grapes; 70 per cent of the cantaloupes 66 per cent of the lettuce; 63 per cent of the oranges, and more than 50 per cent of the pears."

Seven For a Secret

By MARY WEBB

Elmer laughed softly. In the laugh was the secret gleam of youth in its own freemasonry. The middle-aged man might be the best sheep breeder anywhere round, but he was a terror for making money, but with regard to his own daughter, Elmer judged him a fool. He'd seen whether old Lovekin's daughter would bide at home if he—Ralph Elmer—said "walk out."

"But you're not a marrying man," said Isaiah slowly; and Elmer blushed up to his hair at the implied discovery of his inmost thoughts.

Isaiah was pleased with him for blushing—it was a confession of his own power. And what a foil for Ride-out! Once those sparks were well lit in Elmer's eyes, Isaiah judged that most things—cowsen-shepherds included—would go down before his eagerness in attaining his desire.

"Well," he said, "we'll have our bit of a smoke and a nap now, and then I'll show you my lamb. . . . Can you ride well?" he asked carelessly.

"Ride? I hope so. I haven't met what I can't ride yet."

"Isaiah!"

He established himself by the fire with pipes and newspapers. After half an hour Isaiah looked up.

"If you take the lot," he said, "you can have the lamb for a shilling per head less than what I priced 'em at. And I priced 'em dirt cheap, God knows."

"Thank ye kindly," said Elmer; and while Isaiah dozed, he smiled into the fire. The question about riding had revealed to him not only Robert's secret but Isaiah's. It was Lovekin's daughter who had inspired Robert with the idea of riding.

Robert was in love with her. Isaiah was inquiring for some one else to ride into his daughter's heart. That is to say, Isaiah did not want a cowman for a son-in-law. And that is? Evidently the girl's ideal was a fellow just like himself.

He smoothed his thin, jutting jaw, his sleek hair, his long, thin legs in their smart cord and leather, smiling a little with pleased vanity.

"Damn it!" he thought. "To like to oblige 'em and win in and win the girl, waist and color and bankbook and all—only—"

A dark, gloomy, harried expression suddenly swept across his face. He looked like a cloud distilled from wild black mountains sweeping its heavy shades over a prosperous dairy country.

CHAPTER XII

"Well, mother," said Jonathan, coming in cased with rain one wild morning at the end of February, "this be February-fall-ditch and no mistake. A sight for ducks! You'd best muddle up afore you go to the house."

"Inna Mr. Elmer moving in to-day?" asked Mrs. Makepeace, as Robert came in.

"Ah, dang it all. And it's me that's got to go and give a hand."

"Well, it's to be hoped that house-keeper of hisn's got a good stout coat on her back, and not the sort of Welsh gotherum as Miss Gillian favors," said Mrs. Makepeace, and her brown eyes softly observed Robert. "And talking of Miss Gillian, Master had a letter from her yesterday."

Robert was very busy doing up his leggings.

"She's been gallivanting on the river," continued his mother, "and some gentleman along of her, and oh, no, Bob, she's not drowned."

"Engaged to be married?" said Robert.

"You breathe that word 'married,'" said Jonathan, "as if it was one of the same as drowned. To mind me of the tale of Chamfey Pariah—old Sir Chamfey Pariah of Botkins Bay."

"I must ha' bin a caution!" His daughter was to be wed, and they sent a sight of bidding letters and ordered the feast and the fine clothes. But old Sir Chamfey would have all the men's coats, (they was poor relations, and he giv' 'em their coats, like) lined with black. They was bottle-blue coats on top. And all the women's cloaks as he giv' was rose-color, but he made them be lined with black, too. And his daughter met cry, and the folks met look glum, but it was wear 'em or hang 'em up. Well, Miss Matilda was ready and the bridesmaids was ready to follow 'er, and the

BRIDGE

By Wm. L. McKenney
Secretary, American Bridge League

Trumping of partner's ace has wrecked many a happy home, and while the writer is not offering sympathy to those who have committed this almost unpardonable error, there are hands, of course, where even this play must be made. The trumping of partner's ace proves a winner in the following hand:

NORTH
S-A-K-J-9-6-3
W-E-S-T
S-Mon
H-9-7-6

THE PLAY

East opens the king of hearts, the top of suit bid by partner, and it holds the trick. He continues with the five, West winning with the queen. West returns the ace of hearts, declarer plays the nine. The only play that will defeat the declarer's contract is for East to trump his partner's ace of hearts so that he can lead through the clubs or diamonds, which in either case will stop the declarer from going game.

If he were to refuse to trump, West would be forced to make a bad lead. If he led a heart, declarer would trump high and discard the nine of diamonds, in dummy. If he led a small diamond, declarer's ten spot would hold the trick and the third diamond could be ruffed. If he returned a small club, the dummy would win with the nine of jack depending upon whether East played a small one or the ten spot. The ace of clubs would be led and a diamond discarded—then the queen of clubs. West would cover with the king, declarer would trump and would discard his last losing diamond on the good jack of clubs.

That hand well emphasizes the fact that there is a such thing in bridge as the word "never."

THE BIDDING

The hand was played at contract and South, the dealer, opened the bidding with one club. West overcalled with one heart, North, holding two and one-half high-card tricks and a strong biddable suit, forced with two spades. East gladly passed and South carried the declaration to four spades which closed the contracting.

"Engaged to be married, mother?" said Robert, like a man half-stifling in deep water.

"Neither engaged nor like to be, my dear," said the poor gentleman took a chill, and he's very bad, and Miss Gillian being for it; seemingly, along of being so venturesome, 'ticing him on the water in cold weather."

"But, Lord love you, mother, what a little nesh thing like Gillian can do, a great strong fellow can do, surely," said Robert.

"He inna strong, ner young, lad, and you'd best mind how you call her Gillian afore mother."

But Robert, whistling like a tree full of birds, had gone out in the driving rain.

With the rain slashing his face, and the wet leather thrashing against his legs, and a day's work for a man he did not like before him, he yet whistled every one of Gruffudd's tunes that he could remember. There was a bit of rainy blue afar; the voices of lambs were uplifted with tremulous young eagerness: spring was on her way here, she truly carried a little in the mountains of the south; and Gillian—Gillian—Gillian was not engaged to be married.

Robert set his hands on the high fence between the Gillian fields and the moor, and was over in a flash, because Gillian was not betrothed. As he went he made a little song:

"Spring's asleep over yonder
In the mountains to the south,
With a rose on her mouth,
And Gillian's asleep in the east.
There's ice on the pool, in the fold
Man and beast wander,
Starved w' cold.

Spring'll call us to mind
And the wood lark'll sing,
Bits of green grass'll spring,
There'll be yellow-odd on the gorse,
Wheat pricking through the loam.
But there's gill'll be winter-blind
Till Gillian's raught home."

When he had made it, he sang it, and the plovers, equally intoxicated, answered him through the grey walls of rain that stood up on either side of him like the walls of a glass corridor.

There was no sign of Elmer or his belongings, only the wreckage of the Thatcher's move, but of straw and paper, broken glass and boxes, dead plants in pots, and forlorn stalks of grain that grew along the fence.

Robert had the key, which Elmer had left with him. He went in, gathered up the rubbish from the kitchen floor, and made a fire. He was very handy.

"Now," he said, "when they come it wunna take two shakes to open a box o' china and get 'em a cup o' tea. That poor wench'll be starved with cold if she's anywhere near as nesh as Gillian. If Gillian was—if I'd the sin in what she wore, I'd buy her a great thick pilot coat like Mr. Mooney's uncle at Weeping Cross when he come back from the war. Ah! I'd lap her up in that, and a turtleneck and—" he stretched out his arms—"and these," he said. "Dear-a-me, where did I put them matches?"

Silence in the old hotel. Only the whistling of the windstreaks, the distant gnawing of a rat. (And what is more desolate than the daylight gnawing of rats and mice?) The windows, washed with water, were like the windows of an under-ocean castle, with the grey swell of the heavy, stilet sea threatening to cave them in.

Robert fetched the well-pail full of water, and a discarded broom, and sluiced the kitchen floor. Then he sat down before the fire on a sugar box to smoke and wait. At last there came a faint sound, a slight disturbance of the apparently permanent silence and loneliness. It grew, resolved itself into a thudding, a rattling, but no voices. A door banged, and still no voices, no laughter, no pleasant give and take nor merriment nor cajolery!

"Well," thought Robert, "they're very mum. Still on, if he only the feller's housekeeper and the odd man. It inna a bride as comes whome."

The sound resolved itself into a blur of darkness, two pricked ears, breathless, and Elmer's voice:

"That you, Rideout?"

"We're late as bitter apples," said Elmer. "We've had the devil's own luck, and the wagons got stuck a mile back in that bit o' slough at the brook head. They're coming along now. This' (with a sideways nod) 'is Rishi. She's dumb."

"Ah—She's a foundling—a dumb piddling. I gave her a job out of pity. She's a ferocious creature, and feckless. But I keep her. She'd be on the roads else."

"On the roads else," repeated Robert stupidly. And still he stared and stared at the woman in the gig. Still he felt, as he put it, that his heart had turned to water.

Horoscope

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1930

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day in planetary government. It is a time for recreation and entertainment. In the early hours there may be a sense of domestic harmony or merry breakfast tables. Under this way it is supposed to be easy to break anything from a coffee cup to a leg. Care should be exercised to prevent accidents.

There is a favorable sign for romance, making for engagements to marry and for wedding. Wednesdays that take place to-day have the promise of prosperity and the bride is likely to be much in the company of persons of wealth or prominence.

The stars seem to promise good luck for anything in the line of entertainment. It is a fortunate day for domestic hospitality. Theatres should benefit greatly under this rule, which seems to forecast access of interest in the theatre.

Again the stars prophesy for pictures new inventions that add immeasurably to their artistry.

Color which is now so widely appreciated is to be employed in many usual ways, but there may be less gaiety in attire.

The evening of this day is held a most fortunate time for men who occupy prominent places in the public service.

The President of the United States and certain United States senators probably will gain much in popularity before the first of the year, the stars prophesy.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which friendships contribute to success.

Children born on this day probably will be serious and practical. The subjects of this sign usually prosper through their courage and hard work.

Justin McCarthy, author, was born on this day, 1826. Andreas Hofer, patriot, born 1787, also celebrated it as a birthday.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Trap

(Copyright, 1930.)

By HOWARD R. GARIS

When Uncle Wiggily awakened in his hollow stump bungalow one morning he heard Baby Bunny read some of the other little rabbit children singing from their rooms:

"Goodie, golly, lowie!
Isn't it nice and snowy!
That was what the bunnies sang that cold November morning and Uncle Wiggily, hopping out of bed, skipped to his window and saw that the children were quite right.

"It's snowing and snowing hard!" said Mr. Longears looking down at his head. "No more garden golf for me this season, I guess. I went on as he looked at the Tom Thumb course he had laid out with old toys the children had tossed aside as obstacles.

One obstacle was an old Noah's Ark and another was a Jumping Jack that tried to stop the balls as they rolled between his legs.

Well, it was quite a storm and by the time Uncle Wiggily had slid down the banister railing, instead of hopping down stairs, and was eating hot clover pancakes with carrot maple sugar sprinkled on the middle, the ground outside was quite white.

"La! La! La!" sang the bunny rabbit children. "What fun we'll have going to school!"

He hopped home on one paw.

"Don't throw any snowballs at the Lady Mouse Teacher!" said Uncle Wiggily as Baby Bunny, Buster, Custer, Jingle, Jangle and all the others started away through the storm, warm in their snug, fur coats.

"No, we wouldn't do that, would we?" asked Custer of Buster.

"Why no, of course we wouldn't!" said Buster to Custer.

"Oh, no!" echoed Baby Bunny and she laughed.

Well, the bunny rabbit children hurried away to the Hollow Stump School, and so did the pussy dogs and the puppy cats—Oh, I've got that wrong, haven't I? Anyhow all the other animals did, and the snow was so deep and I'm not allowed to tell you whether or not they threw snowballs at the Lady Mouse Teacher. You must guess.

But after Baby Bunny and all the others were out of the way Uncle Wiggily, humming a little tune, put on his extra warm fur coat, took his dog off the end of the snow and with his best red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, started for the front hall.

"Where are you going?" asked his wife, so full of anxious like.

"Oh, where I go every day—just to look for an adventure," replied Mr. Longears.

"Could I bring you back one?" I mean do you want anything from the store?" he asked. And he laughed and so did his wife, at the idea of him bringing back an adventure. For an adventure is something that happens to you. It can't be brought home. Of course with a jolly adventure you can bring yourself home and tell about it.

And if you have a bad adventure, say if a rabbit gets caught by a Fox why he can't even take himself home to tell about it. So you see there is no taking home of adventures. And Mrs. Longears said she didn't need anything from the store, so Uncle Wiggily told her good-bye and hopped away.

Over the fields and through the woods he hopped this way and that through the snow storm, looking for an adventure, but none could be found. By this time the snow was getting quite dirty and deep and it was hard for Uncle Wiggily to hop along.

"I think I must go home without an adventure," he said a little sadly, as he turned toward his hollow stump bungalow. "The storm is too bad. Soon he reached his yard where he had made the Tom Thumb golf game, that was a disappointment. Uncle Wiggily had a funny feeling in his left hind paw. It seemed to poke itself into something and then the rabbit gentleman was a tightness about it and he could hardly lift one leg.

"Oh, a rabbit trap!" cried Mr. Longears. "There was a trap under the snow! I don't see it and I stepped right in."

What Are the So-called Advantages the Wealthy Child Has Over the Poor One? Dorothy Dix Says That More Money Than Is Necessary to Keep It Comfortable Is Often a Handicap Than a Help

THE other day a mother advertised in a newspaper for rich foster-parents for her child. She said that she was willing to sacrifice herself in order that the boy might be brought up in luxury with all of the advantages that wealth gives.

It is easy to see how a poor woman who sees her children shabby while other children are dressed in silks and satins; who sees her children riding in the street cars while other children joyride around in sports cars; who sees her children going to work from the high school while other children are sent off to expensive colleges, should feel that they are not getting a fair deal in life and that they have not the same chances of success that the rich children have.

She feels that if Mamie could have the pretty clothes to set off her beauty and to go into smart society, she would marry a millionaire and live happily ever afterward. She is sure that if Johnny and Tommy could afford to study some profession they would achieve fame and fortune, and she is perfectly assured that they would be utterly blissful if they had nothing to do but play and unlimited dollars to play with.

But in this the poor mother is mistaken. Beyond giving a child a decent home in which to grow up in, enough clothes to keep it comfortable and enough food to fill its stomach, money can buy nothing for it that is not often a handicap than a help. And if you do not believe this look about you. Who are the important people in every community? Who are the millionaires? Who run the banks and the railroads and are at the head of great enterprises? Who are the famous writers and artists and inventors and actors and singers?

The children of rich people? Men and women who were brought up in luxury? Men and women whose parents could have given them in their youth every advantage of education and study and travel? Not a bit of it. You could count on your fingers and toes every rich man's son and daughter in the country who has ever achieved anything worth while. All of the balance, from the President down, were the children of poor people who had to struggle to get an education and who had to fight their way up in the world with their own brains and brawn.

What are these advantages that the rich children have that the poor mothers envy them so much? Not a happy childhood.

The poorest baby whose own mother nurses it on her breast, who knows the tenderness and understanding and gets the love and patience that only a mother can have for her own child; gets something that the millionaire baby that is turned over to baby specialists and governesses never knows. No synthetic motherhood is as good as the real thing. No hired hands can mold the plastic character of a child as a mother's can, and when a child has missed the daily and hourly companionship of its mother it has lost something for which money is no substitute.

The advantages of education? True, the rich can send their children to schools where there are learned professors capable of unlocking all the doors of learning for them, but they cannot make them study, and in every college and university in the land the boys and girls who are leading their classes and taking the honors are the poor boys and girls who are working their way through school. Most of the rich youngsters who go to college in their own cars never learn anything except how to make whoopee.

Marriage? If there is one thing more certain than another, it is that money doesn't help a girl to make a good marriage. On the contrary. Statistics show that there are more old maids among millionaires than among any other class of women in this country, and the reason is obvious. They would not take the kind of men they could get.

American men are seldom fortune-hunters, and they fight shy of very rich girls, so the very fact of her money cuts many a fine girl off from ever really meeting the kind of men that she would like to marry. She is thrown only with play-boys and cake-eaters and men who do not attract her because they have no serious purpose in life. Every girl who works in an office as an alert, keen, ambitious young man who is go-getters has a better chance to marry than any Miss Gossius has.

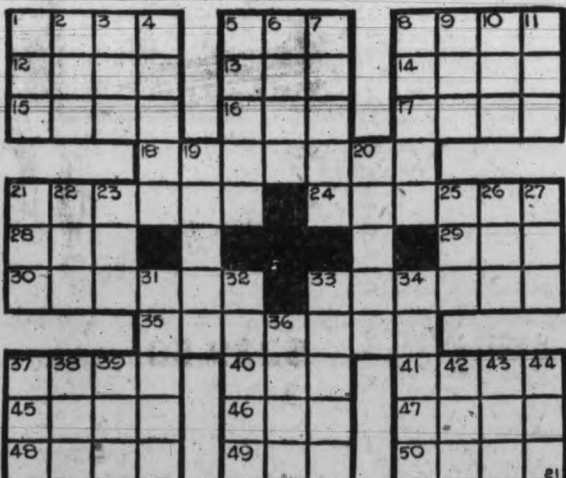

Success? Mighty few successes are nurtured in the lap of luxury. Most of us need the spur of necessity to drive us on. When we are lapped in comfort and pleasure beckons to us from every side, we may dream of doing great things, but we never do them. It is only when we have to work or starve that we put our backs into the job. It is only when we know that the only way we can achieve our desires is by battling for them tooth and nail that we put up the fight that makes us win out.

Temptation? Every mother wants her children to be good. To be men and women of stainless life, and surely no one will deny that it is easier for a poor boy and girl to keep on the straight and narrow path than it is for rich ones, for their very poverty is their protection against the evil men and women who prey on the weaknesses of the rich. It is cynically true that nothing makes for virtue like lacking the price of vice.

So, what are these advantages that this poor mother thinks she would give her child by giving it to rich people to rear in luxury? DOROTHY DIX.
